RESCUERS prepare to remove the bodies of three men killed when an air taxi plane crashed into the side of a mountain 18 miles southwest of Covington, Va., Tuesday. Victims were pilot Jack Miller, 34, Vinton, Va., and his two passengers, Russell Ames, 39, of Cleveland, O., and David Movey, 47, of Wilmette, Ill. (UPI Telephoto)

Appliance Fails To Ignite

Heater's Gas Fumes Kill Pughtown District Bride

2 Overcome In Home At Cumberland

Friend, Step-Father Found Unconscious But Are Recovering

Escaping fumes from a gas heater snuffed out the life of a New Cumberland area wife early today and hospitalized two other persons with whom she was visiting in a duplex apartment home in the Hancock County seat.

Oxygen administered to Mrs. Sondra Hoffman Price, 20, of New Cumberland R. D. 2, near Pughtown, failed to revive her at 2:57 a. m. today when the trio was discovered unconscious in a River Ave. home in New Cumberland.

Mrs. Price, a bride of 11 months, was visiting with a girl friend and her step-father, who both are in "fair" condition at the Weirton General Hospital after being overcome by inhalation of gas fumes.

Miss Judy Jones, 19, and her step-father, Denver Turley, 42, were rushed to the hospital by an ambulance and county sheriff's deputies and are responding to treatment, the hospital said.

The three were discovered unconscious in the living-room of the apartment home by Miss Jones' mother, Mrs. Cora Jones Turley, who had just returned from work as a waitress at the Town & Country Restaurant in Weirton.

Authorities believe that a pilot light on the medium size gas heater in one section of the four-room apartment apparently went out and raw gas continued to pour unnoticed into the rooms.

Mrs. Price, wife of Robert Lee Price, who is stationed with the Navy at Great Lakes, Ill., was pronounced dead on arrival at 3:30 a. m. today at the Weirton hospital.

Mrs. Turley, upon finding the three victims lying prostrate in the livingroom immediately turned off the gas heater valve and threw open windows in the rooms.

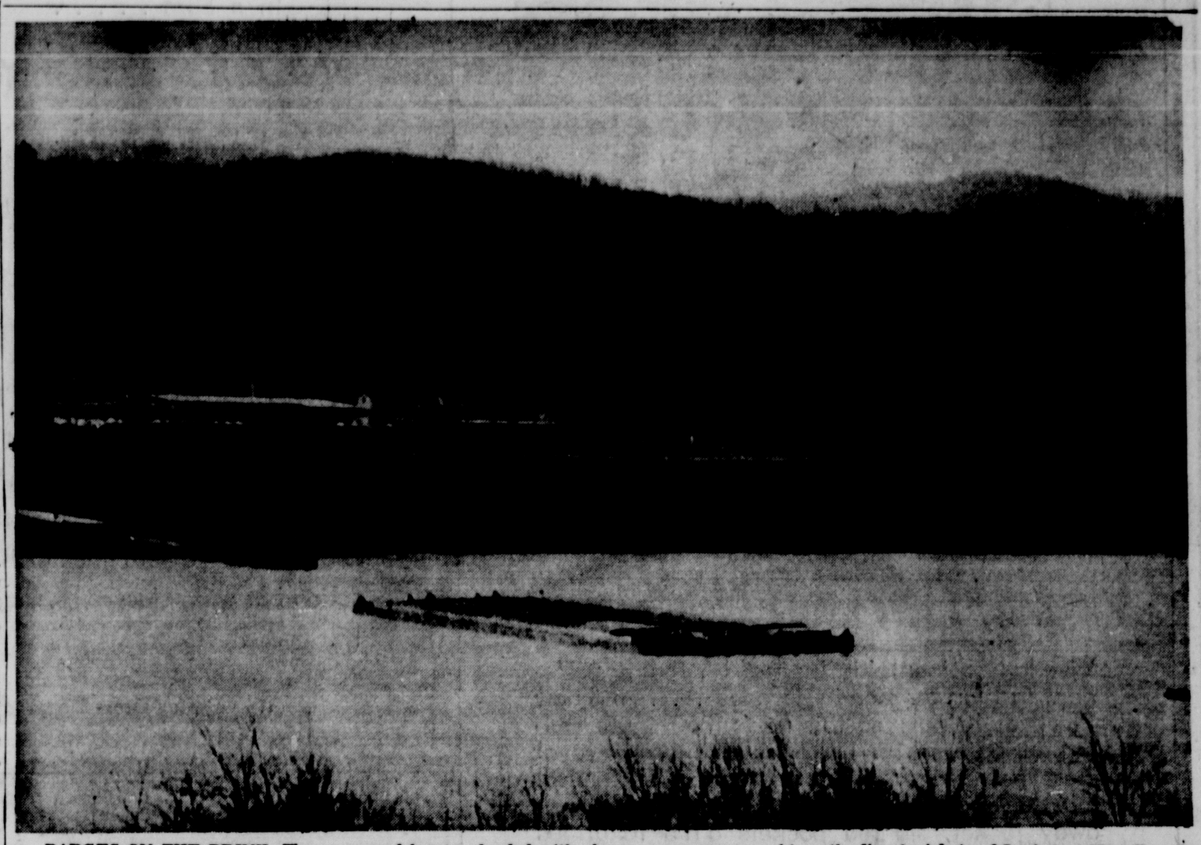

She then notified sheriff's deputies, D. R. Turley of the Stewart & Turley Funeral Home located nearby and New Cumberland volunteer firemen.

Deputies rushed Turley to the hospital in a cruiser and a funeral home ambulance transported Miss Jones to Weirton.

Volunteer firemen and deputies used a resuscitator to pump oxygen into Mrs. Price but emergency treatment failed to revive her.

BARGES ON THE BRINK. Three covered barges, loaded with chrome ore, were caught on the lip of wickets of Lock 8 at Newell early today after they broke from moorings at the Milliron Co. docks when apparently rocked loose from the wash of passing boats. The barges, brought here Sunday, drifted down river and caught broadside on the wickets around 1:30 a. m. A Milliron spokesman said a towboat has been ordered to retrieve the barges sometime this afternoon. Damage to the dam was minor because the barges stopped broadside.

Mercury Flirts With Zero

Rural Areas Get 7 Above, Then Frigid Wave Eases

Autumn's first cold wave was easing today after giving the Ohio Valley a taste of winter weather and while the mercury flirted with zero the district got none of the snow that plagued other sections of Northeastern Ohio.

Official temperatures ranged from 14 at Dam 8 at Newell to 7 at Millport while rural householders reported still lower readings, including 4 above at Fredericktown — the "ice box" of Columbiana County.

Edwin Copeland, U. S. weather observer, said his reading of 7 was the low mark for the season. He termed it "real cold" but not unusual and recalled a hard freeze about Nov. 11, 1942, along with heavy snow. Winter is due officially Dec. 22.

The high mark yesterday was 26 degrees — 6 below freezing — recorded at the dam at 2 p. m. Then the mercury fell steadily, halting at 14 degrees at 1 a. m. It remained there until 7, then started back up slowly.

The Ohio weatherman said sunny skies may take some of the bite from the cold today and tonight will be less cold with a low range of 18 to 22 degrees. Thursday will be warmer though partly cloudy.

East Liverpool had only a few light flurries yesterday but the northern tier of counties had snow.

Heaviest snow was reported in Northern Geauga County. Sheriff's deputies at Chardon reported that although there was 8 inches of snow on the ground there was no drifting and roads were kept open.

The snow stopped before midnight, and salt and cinder crews were at work throughout most of Northeastern Ohio during the night.

Heavy snow was reported also at Jefferson in Ashtabula County, with smaller amounts north of there. At Ashtabula, the highway patrol reported 5 inches.

In Lake County, sheriff's deputies reported 5 to 7 inches.

Southeastern suburbs of Cleveland also found snow on the ground this morning, but the weather bureau said only a trace was recorded at Cleveland Hopkins Airport and in the downtown district.

An unofficial low of 7 above was reported at Chardon. At Cleveland, a low of 10 set a record for early cold. In 1933 the temperature dropped to 12 on Nov. 16.

Zanesville had 12 and Columbus 15.

Pre-Winter Cold Wave Stings East And Dixie

By The Associated Press

A pre-winter cold wave that numbed the Rockies and the mid continent earlier this week stung the East and the heart of Dixie today with the season's coldest weather.

It was colder in many parts of the South—below freezing—than in the snow-covered sections of the Northland, which made a quick recovery after two days of subzero blasts.

As gusty northerly winds powered the arctic air into the eastern half of the country, temperatures moderated in the Rockies and north central region. The warming trend followed record low readings for the date in the Midwest Tuesday.

Ask Public Be Reassured

Cranberry Growers Claim Products On Market Safe

WASHINGTON (AP)—Cranberry producers asserted today that their products now on the market are safe to eat. They called on Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming to give that reassurance to the American public.

Ambrose E. Stevens, general manager of a cooperative which he said represents 75 per cent of the cranberry crop, said canned cranberry sauce now on store shelves was made from berries harvested in 1958.

Neither the Food and Drug Administration nor producers, Stevens said, have any reason to believe that last year's crop was improperly treated in any manner with the weed killer Aminotriazole.

"The very careful restrictions made by us on fresh berries also indicate that 10 million pounds of fresh cranberries in grocery stores are also entirely pure," Stevens added.

Traces of the weed killer, which has been found to cause cancer in rats, have been detected in some lots of cranberries.

This discovery prompted Flemming to caution the public last week on what he called the possible hazard in eating the favorite Thanksgiving and Christmas season sauce unless it could be identified as coming from a safe area.

Stevens, at a conference called by Flemming, presented a five-point industry program designed to relieve Americans of any worry.

Stevens, representing Ocean Spray Cranberries, Inc., said his growers had been forbidden as long ago as Sept. 18 to use the questioned herbicide on their cranberry properties in any form despite approval by the Department of Agriculture for use after harvest.

Steel, Union Reported In Secret Talks

NEW YORK (AP)—Top steel industry and union negotiators are staging secret meetings in an effort to break the stalemated steel strike, Iron Age Magazine reported today.

Pressures on the union and the companies have prodded the two sides to renew negotiations, the national metalworking weekly said.

"Pressure on the steelworkers is to avoid a second walkout after the Taft-Hartley injunction runs out," Iron Age said. "Pressure on the companies is the threat of congressional action to force compulsory arbitration if the strike continues into the next session of Congress."

The recent meetings failed to bring any concrete settlement proposals, the magazine added. But "they did clear some of the air," it said.

Meanwhile, the steelworkers union is "launching a plan of massive encirclement," according to Iron Age. "The intent is to reach settlements with the aluminum industry, the copper industry and the canmaking companies. All of them are now negotiating with the steelworkers union."

The union hopes this tactic will "put irresistable pressure on steel, as the one remaining holdout, and force a settlement," Iron Age said.

Court's Staff Given Notices By New Judge

All four appointive members of the Municipal Court staff received written notices through the mail Tuesday from Judge-elect Samuel M. Chertoff that he will not retain them in their posts when he takes over the bench Jan. 1, succeeding Judge George L. Brokaw.

The notices were given to Clerk Harold L. Powell, a veteran of 12 years' service; Bailiff O. Earl Greenawalt, who has served 10 years, and Mrs. Mary B. Wolfe and Mrs. Jean Saucer, assistant clerks, who have been employed approximately 2 years.

Atty. Chertoff, a Democrat, was named to a 6-year term on the bench at the Nov. 3 election to succeed Judge Brokaw, a Republican, who is rounding out his 10th year.

Each employe received an identical letter in which the judge-elect said he will not reappoint them and adding: "This is not a pleasant task for me to perform, but such are the fortunes of politics."

The clerk's post pays $3,850 and the bailiff draws $5,050 — base pay of $3,850 plus a $1,200-a-year car allowance. The two women employes are paid $2,640. In the case of the bailiff's and the clerk's salaries, the city pays $2,310 toward each and the county pays the balance. The judge's salary is $5,800.

Powell was appointed clerk by the late Judge Frank E. Grosshans, who served on the bench before Judge Brokaw. Greenawalt took over the bailiff's job as an appointee of Judge Brokaw. Mrs. Saucer and Mrs. Wolfe were added to the staff during the terminal illness of the late Mrs. Mary Toland, stenographer and official court reporter.

Motorist Cited In City Mishap

Pedestrian Injured As Car Rounds Turn

A 20-year-old North Side motorist was cited after his auto struck a woman pedestrian, 48, Tuesday afternoon at 3 on Broadway near E. 6th St., police reported.

Mrs. Della Gregg, 211 Blakeley St., was treated at City Hospital for abrasions of both knees and a bruise of the left elbow after she was struck by a 1954 sedan operated by Paul E. Stauffer, 483 Orchard Grove Ave.

Stauffer told police he halted for a red light on E. 6th St. and then turned left onto Broadway, strikirg the pedestrian while in the crosswalk. He told police he did not see Mrs. Gregg until his car struck her. Mrs. Gregg told police she saw the car approaching and attempted to step out of its path, but was hit by the right front fender.

Charged with failure to yield the right-of-way to a pedestrian, Stauffer was fined $15 and costs today when he entered a guilty plea before Municipal Judge George L. Brokaw.

A Steubenville driver was cited as an aftermath of another mishap Tuesday morning at 9 at W. 8th and Jefferson St., but he failed

Probers Look Into Clark's TV Practices

ABC Supports Star Who Dropped Other Business Interests

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — House investigators have come here to check information about the television practices of Dick Clark, idol of teen-agers.

The House subcommittee on Legislative Oversight announced the investigators' trip Tuesday. A spokesman said the information generally concerned the subcommittee's investigation of practices used to promote music.

The subcommittee announced recently that it would investigate payoffs to disc jockeys to play and promote records.

Clark's network issued a statement Tuesday night in New York.

The American Broadcasting Co. said it had "examined all evidence available to us" on Clark's various shows and had concluded its investigation with "renewed faith and confidence in Dick Clark's integrity."

Clark, ABC went on, "has neither solicited nor accepted any personal considérations—money or otherwise—to have any performer appear—or to play any record—on any of his programs."

Clark declined all comment.

Earlier, it was announced the 29-year-old TV star had been told by ABC to either give up his outside business interests or his television shows.

Clark rose quickly to fame with his nationally televised disc jockey show, "American Bandstand." He also is master of ceremonies on the Saturday night "Dick Clark Show" from New York and he appears on a Sunday panel show.

Clark dropped the business interests: One-third ownership in a Philadelphia record company, and interests in three music publishing companies.

ABC said Clark volunteered to divest himself of these interests in line with a new policy "whereby performers and others who select and play records will be required to divest themselves of all interests in the recording, music publishing and allied fields."

Wild Dogs On Loose

MARCY, N. Y. (AP)—A pack of wild dogs has alarmed residents of this Oneida County community. Cecil Gotts, a veteran trapper for the State Conservation Department, has been called in to hunt down the dogs. The department pointed out that wild dogs killed two children in Kansas last year.

On Goodwill Tour

Ike Studies Idea To Invite Truman

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower is mulling over a proposal that he ask Harry S. Truman to go along on next month's goodwill visit to three continents, a White House spokesman says.

Wayne Hawks, acting White House press secretary, told a news conference questioner Tuesday: "He has it under consideration, yes."

But one obvious obstacle in the way of turning the President and former President into traveling companions is that for seven years there hasn't been much good-will between them.

And a spokesman for Truman said in Kansas City that Truman knew nothing of the idea.

It was Sen. Thomas J. Dodd (D-Conn) who suggested that Eisenhower make his 20,000-mile tour of 11 nations a bi-partisan affair. He wrote a letter to the chief executive Friday proposing that Eisenhower invite one or more Democrats experienced in international affairs.

In addition to Truman, the senator mentioned Dean Acheson, who was Truman's secretary of state; Adlai E. Stevenson, the loser to Eisenhower in the 1952 and 1956 presidential campaigns; and Rep. Chester Bowles (D-Conn), a former ambassador in India.

India, with Red China glowering across her northern border, is a high priority point on the tour. Eisenhower will spend more time there than in any other country.

It is in preparation for the trip that the President is vacationing here at Augusta National Golf Club and storing up as much rest and relaxation as he can. Conferences with Washington officials still take some of his time.

For a session today, he called in the five members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff for what Hawks said is one of their periodic meetings with the commander-in-chief.

"They will discuss military plans and program," Hawks said.

Hawks said he thinks an answer to Dodd's letter will be coming up very shortly.

But he as definite on one thing: Eisenhower hasn't communicated with Truman about it.

Eisenhower - Truman relations have been frosty ever since the 1952 political wars, in which Truman fought Eisenhower and the turesque speech.

Soviet Chief Makes Boast About Rockets

Claims One Factory Made 250 With Hydrogen Warheads

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev says one Soviet factory alone has turned out 250 rockets with hydrogen warheads in one year—enough to "raze all our potential enemies off the face of the earth."

"You can well imagine that if this lethal weapon is exploded over some country there will be nothing left there at all," Khrushchev told a meeting of Soviet journalists. But the Soviet government is "ready to sink all this in the sea in the interests of ensuring peace on earth," he said, "if other countries will follow our example."

Khrushchev's speech was made Friday, but his text was not released until Tuesday night.

The Soviet leader said he was making public the rocket production figure to back up his 1958 announcement that the Soviets were turning out intercontinental ballistic missiles. He did not indicate whether the plant he referred to was producing all of the Soviets' nuclear - headed rockets.

"Some in the West claim that the Soviet Union has changed its policy and therefore it has become easier to talk with us," Khrushchev said. "This is wrong, of course. Communists we were born, Communists we live and will not die but continue to march onward as Communists."

In Washington, the Defense Department had no immediate comment on Khrushchev's report on Soviet missile production.

It was not clear whether the Premier was referring to intercontinental missiles with a range of several thousand miles, or whether he was speaking of medium-range weapons with a range of about 700 miles.

Linked To Chicago Racket

Sen. McClellan Ties Hoffa To Bond Business Scheme

WASHINGTON (AP)—The chairman of the Senate Rackets Committee has accused Teamster Boss James R. Hoffa of funneling union bond business into a firm he said has Chicago gangster connections.

The Labor Department promptly joined forces with the committee to investigate the alleged scheme.

Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark), rackets committee chairman, made public a letter he sent yesterday to Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell spelling out his accusations.

The senator said he has information that Hoffa and the union's executive board "have been actively attempting to deliver the lucrative business of bonding Teamster officials throughout the country to an agency whose officers are associated with Allen and Paul Dorfman and with known Chicago racketeers."

"If our information is correct, and this is allowed to happen," McClellan continued, "the Teamster membership could again well be faced with excessive expenditures of several millions of dollars, as they were in their previous dealings with the Dorfmans."

The committee has accused Paul Dorfman and his son, Allen, of collecting $1,650,000 in overcharges as insurance brokers for Teamster welfare and pension funds.

McClellan charged that the union, without waiting for the American Surety Assn. to work out a new and lower schedule of premiums to be charged for the bonds, has tried to swing all of its business to Summit Fidelity & Surety Co. of Akron, Ohio.

Secretary Mitchell said he had sent investigators to pick up the evidence McClellan offered, and pledged that "all necessary action will be taken."

Jurisdiction Question Shifts Patrol's Charge

Because of a question over jurisdiction of the local court, the State Highway Patrol today withdrew charges filed against a woman motorist for an alleged violation on Route 30 at Cannons Mills, but prepared to enter a new affidavit in the court of County Judge James MacDonald at Lisbon.

The defendant is Mrs. Josephine Stein of Hanoverton R. D. 1, who was cited Friday on a charge of passing at an intersection. She was due for a Municipal Court hearing at 11 this morning. The patrol said Mrs. Stein will be scheduled to appear at 1 this afternoon before Judge MacDonald.

A new state law took effect Nov. 6 requiring that patrol cases would be tried before county judges rather than in city courts.

Boy Scout Council's Annual Meeting Slated

The annual business meeting of the Columbiana Boy Scout Council will be held Tuesday at 8 p. m. at the American Legion home in Chester.

Officers and members of the Executive Board for 1960 will be elected.

Officers and chairmen of the operating committees will report on the progress of the past year and review plans for the coming year.

A. P. Schmauch of Salem, Council president, will preside. Howard Knepper, deputy regional scout executive of Cincinnati, will attend.

About 125 members are expected. John Pinney of Chester is in charge of the arrangements.

Steel Shortage Hits Another Chrysler Plant

DETROIT (AP)—The national steel shortage cuts further into U. S. auto output today with the halting of production of Chrysler's new smaller car, Valiant.

The company said approximately 2,700 workers are to be laid off at the Valiant assembly plant in suburban Hamtramck tonight.

The latest furloughs will bring to 10,580 the total Chrysler layoffs since the recent steel strike began. The Hamtramck plant will continue to produce Dodge cars, the company said.

Humphrey Snubbing Vice Presidential Spot

POCATELLO, Idaho (AP)—Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn) says he isn't interested in the vice presidential spot on the 1960 Democratic ticket.

He spoke at Democratic meetings here and at Idaho Falls Tuesday. In a news conference at Idaho Falls, Humphrey was asked if he would seek the vice presidential nomination next year.

"If I proceed as contemplated, I'll seek the presidential nomination. If not, only the Senate," Humphrey replied.

Recount Seen As 5-Hour Job

A recount Thursday night affecting the outcome of Nov. 3 general election races for offices in Salem, Columbiana and Elkrun Township is expected to require about 5 hours, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the County Election Board, said today.

The recount will cover 1,866 ballots in 10 precincts in the three subdivisions. Normally, recounting a single precinct requires approximately 30 minutes, O'Hanlon said.

The Columbiana recount was asked by Lloyd D. Crawford, Democratic candidate for village clerk, who apparently lost to George R. Snoke, Republican. Scheduled for 6 p. m., it involves only one precinct.

Three precincts will be recounted in Elkrun Township. The new tabulation was requested by Clifford F. Westover, who apparently lost to Walter H. Coie in a race for trustee. It is scheduled for 7.

All 6 precincts in Salem's First Ward will be recounted in the race between Rudolph M. Linder and Albert Lesch for a ward Council seat. Lesch apparently won by 8 votes. If the Elkrun recount is finished in time, the Salem recount will begin at 8, O'Hanlon said.

The new tabulation involves 261 ballots in Columbiana, 303 in Elkrun Township and 1,302 in Salem.

Water Main Scheduled For Flushing Tonight

LISBON — Flushing of a water main from the pumping station to the community water wells is scheduled tonight about 10, the Board of Public Affairs announced today.

Residents will be supplied from the reservoir until the flushing is completed. The board members said residents in the northern part of the village have complained about the water being clouded.

Residents with unpaid water and sewage bills have been warned to settle their accounts, or their water service will be turned off by next week.

Better Pay—Better Service

If the proposed salary increases for city officials—including the mayor—become a reality after consideration by Council, the municipal operation should benefit overall regardless of whether a Republican or a Democratic administration is in office.

It stands to reason that the higher the salary the harder those in office will work to retain their positions and the more attractive will the posts appear to many others who are interested in city government but who have shied from it because of the inadequate pay.

Of particular concern is the mayor's salary. In Fred P. Lawrence, who will go out of office at the end of the year, East Liverpool has been most fortunate in having a man to whom the $2,400 was secondary. He was in a position literally to work for nothing—and did so in the city's best interest. Mr. Lawrence is the exception, however, and we will not always be that fortunate. Bert H. Goodballet, the mayor-elect, has pointed out already that he will find it necessary to seek other employment to supplement his income as mayor under the present salary scale. And no one can blame him.

In addition to the fact that it's completely inadequate, a salary of only $2,400 for the city's chief executive also has another unhealthy aspect. Whether justified or not, it raises questions that often reflect on the man in office and it certainly puts temptation in any mayor's path.

The mayor deserves a salary equal to that of the safety-service director.

If the increase comes about, as pointed out earlier, you can be certain that a greater number of qualified men will consider taking an active part in city government. A salary of between $6,000 and $7,000 also should make the mayor's post a full-time job in contrast to the part-time operation is has been too often in the past.

All down the line, the greater the income for services rendered, the better should be the service.

The present $2,400 being paid the mayor is ridiculous. This is a good time to correct the situation.

Cranberries Became On Object Lesson

Two developments in the cranberry scare have turned it into an object lesson for food producers, the federal government and consumers of foodstuffs.

First, the growers' cooperative representing three-fourths of the cranberry producers has asked the White House to declare disaster areas in Washington, Oregon, Wisconsin, New Jersey and Massachusetts, where most of the cranberry crop is grown. It claims that cranberry growers have been damaged to the point of disaster by the federal government's decision to question the purity of the 1959 cranberry supply.

Second, the incident demonstrated the seriousness of a problem that has been plaguing the Department of Agriculture and the Food and Drug Administration. It is not only cranberries that have shown traces of pesticides being used increasingly to control weeds and insect pests. Cranberries merely happened to reveal how serious the problem can be when it reaches a point of possible danger to consumers. That is when the Food and Drug Administration must take over.

The Department of Agriculture has been aware of the possibility of traces of pesticides showing up in foodstuffs for a long time. So have growers. They have relied on the government's agricultural experts to tell them what was safe, just as consumers rely on the Food and Drug Administration to tell them what is safe.

No one knows what is unsafe, however. An arbitrary test, like the test on rats that was the basis for the cranberry warning, is not conclusive.

The problem is more vexing by far than the possible absence of cranberries to go with a Thanksgiving turkey. Chemical warfare in agriculture has been solving one kind of problem at the expense of creating another kind.

Touchdown For The Underdogs

It isn't every day in this rough-and-tumble scrimmage over the taxpayer's dollar that the underdogs get a break.

But when President Eisenhower pinned the Defense Department's ears back by putting an outside limit of 41 billion on its new appropriation, the underdogs scored an unexpected touchdown. For once, the taxpayers scored before the generals and admirals could get organized to start their annual drive for maximum spending and minimum civilian complaining.

Their technique always has been a thing of beauty. They twisted the argument over money into an argument over whether to defend the United States or invite its foes to receive its abject surrender.

They made every congressman who lifted an eyebrow at a request for another billion or two feel like an undercover agent for the Kremlin. With the help of their congressional allies, they gave the impression that anyone who wanted to know the whys and wherefores of military spending was under suspicion of treason.

Moreover, by asking more than they expected to receive, they managed to retreat stubbornly to "previously rationalized positions" in such a way that budget-cutters were put in the light of making martyrs of the helpless wearers of the braid.

No one really blames the generals and admirals for putting up a fight at budget time. But millions have wondered why it shouldn't be just as honorable for someone to put up a fight in behalf of Americans who learned at George Washington's historic knee to doubt the protestations of professional militarists.

These determined and dedicated people are still in the budget game. They will get most of what they think they need. But for once in a budgetary lifetime they have not scored first with wild statements about how much more they want than they are likely to get. They have been told in advance how much to expect — 41 billion in a 79-billion budget. That's 52 per cent. If they can't do it with that much, they can't do it at all.

More Teeth Needed

Any action that will put more teeth into the law directed at erasing of the "numbers" racket deserves the most serious consideration.

It is to be hoped, therefore, that Council will see its way clear to go along with the recommendation of Police Chief Americo Radeschi and City Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper that an ordinance be enacted which would permit the arrest of a "numbers" writer or player merely for possession of lottery tickets to replace the present law that declares the two must be caught in the act.

At present everything is on the side of those who dabble in the "numbers". On frequent occasions police have felt they had a good case following arrests only to find the charges thrown out of court because of loopholes in the present law.

The "numbers" are illegal. The writers know it and the players know it, but both have been taking full advantage of a situation which could be corrected to a great extent. It will always be difficult to catch "numbers" writers because of the wide field in which they have to operate, but the task of the police and the courts would be made much easier if mere possession were to become legal guilt.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The Safety Research Institute after long inquiry into murder on the highways, files report saying it is useless to expect drivers to behave like human beings and that it is up to the auto industry and the highway experts.

The driver is too far gone in lack of routine politeness, common pity and respect for a fellow creature. Detroit must shoulder the job of protecting car drivers from their own hoggishness, arrogance and contempt for another fellow.

THIS IS THE FIRST definite charge that most auto operators roaring through the streets are so heedless, headless and heartless that corporations must rescue them from their own bad instincts.

The report recommends less powerful motors, automatic controls, safety belts as "must" equipment and speed controls by electronic devices. Is it asking push-button control of bad habits as the only way to stop "Mr. Big."

Implication is that man can't stand responsibility under luxurious conditions. Kindliness and gas don't mix. Men, women and children are potential killers when they are operating on luxury upholstery. It is a tough indictment of people.

The auto industry faces a rough task if expected to make an auto so safe (and salable) it can be driven competently by a fool and a pompous lawbreaker. Powerful motors are partly to blame, but there are plenty of folks who would still try to beat the red light, and crowd a fellow autoist off the road, even in a car that could do no more than ten miles an hour.

Too many drivers seem to take the attitude "I own an auto. I have comfort, luxury, ease and pleasure in it. And this is more than I can stand."

If industry is to respond it may have to provide the device that will prevent fuel ignition until safety belt is attached firmly, put an illuminated sign "The cemetery can wait" on the dashboard and an electronic system in state license office that can suspend a driver's license while he is in motion. Maybe the stop light belongs inside the auto.)

THOMAS PUTT is the name of new head of Institute of Aernautical Sciences. Bet he has plenty of "drive"?

One of the last of old American towns to have "town meeting" abolished it the other day. The curious fact was that despite the fact it had voted out the council-city-manager regime months ago for a city government by mayor and board of aldermen without the town meeting routine, voters elected the deposed city manager as the new MAYOR! Them thar New England ways is quaint.

Broadway and show biz generally is displeased by the smear of quiz show rigger who says "the only purpose of entertainment is to entertain," regardless of honesty. "My job was to produce the best show possible. The sponsor sold his products, the networks were happy they had a good show and many contestants made big money," is his quoted defense. Is the fact a grand jury got the works, the public was deceived and standards of honesty got a kick in the pants unimportant?

Portrait Of A Candidate

Special Law Could End Steel Strike

By Victor Riesel

The 19th hole on the Augusta golf links is a deep political pit. President Eisenhower knows that when he returns to Washington he must have a plan to settle a paralyzing, deadlocked strike in an election year — with the advice and consent of the Congress. On the highest authority it can be reported that this is his thinking now — regardless of the panacea prospects at some future national labor - management conference.

Victor Riesel

There is much thought of letting the steel mills whip up smoke and steel for a while. Then if there is no settlement, the President would summon in a few of the top steel executives and a few of the top Steel Union chiefs. He'd say, "All right, I personally am your mediator. Let's settle this today. You're not far apart on the money.

"As for the work rules, the industry has offered to arbitrate. Good! The union says the offer is stacked. Okay. Why don't you fellows rewrite that offer so it suits both sides?"

If both sides can't be satisfied, the President then will go to Congress with one of several suggestions.

SINCE NEITHER he nor either of the political parties want to set labor policy on the floor of Congress next year, the President has before him a Canadian precedent. It is the most unusual suggestion of all the thousands of schemes for Mil-towning America's mill towns.

If he used this precedent, President Eisenhower would simply ask for a special law to settle only the steel crisis. Sort of a special bill.

Back in 1950 Canada was in the midst of a brutal rail strike. The unions and the lines were 4 cents apart. There was also a deadlock on just when the new 40-hour week would take effect. So the government called an "extraordinary" session of Parliament and asked for an "extraordinary" law to settle the rail dispute. It was passed.

Under this law the minister of law was given authority to be a special mediator for five days. If this failed there was to be compulsory arbitration under the Chief Justice of the high court.

BUT THE LAW SAID that the justice and his board could move only in a 4-cent range. It could not go lower than the 4 cents offered by the operators nor higher than the 8 cents asked by the union. The board split the difference by awarding a 6-cent increase.

Then the board, under Justice Kellog, set the date for the 40-hour week. The law then was wiped off the books. It didn't settle all labor problems. But it ended the rail crisis.

If the President decides not to use this tactic, he has another plan now being developed by his staff. This one calls for permission from Congress to set up a new fact-finding board if there is no settlement during the 80-day steel strike injunction. The new group would sit for 30 days. It would try to get a settlement. If it could not compromise the conflict, the board would automatically have the power to make an award. This would be compulsory arbitration.

A third alternative is simpler — and tougher. President Eisenhower would go to Congress and say he doesn't want to seize the mills, nor does he want to force any mill to make special steel for the government. He wants a settlement worked out between both sides by themselves. But since this seems to be unlikely for a while he wants the immediate right to protect the nation.

UNDER THE TAFT-HARTLEY Law he could do this with an injunction for 80 days. Now he would want the right and power to ask the courts to keep extending the injunction indefinitely until there is a settlement. But since this would be tough on the union, he would ask that the latest wage increase offer of the companies be put into effect or made retroactive. Thus the workers would be getting a higher wage. But they would be back in the mills and the nation would be getting its steel.

Whichever plan he sends up, it will be Congress, faced by an angry labor movement, an aroused public and an embattled American industrialism, which must make the decision. In an election year that's a tough one.

Mania Of Goalism

By Raymond Moley

A brief review of American economic and political affairs after six weeks in Europe brings out contrasts and likenesses of considerable interest. My visits included cities in England, Ireland, Germany, and Italy.

Comparisons with American domestic affairs are pertinent so far as England and Germany are concerned. Italy and Ireland present very special situations.

While American politicians and economists have been offering prescriptions for beefing up the American economy in infinite variety, it will be useful to take as an example for comparison a speech by Gov. Nelson Rockefeller in New York on the day of my return from abroad.

His theme was the means by which the United States could plan its development over the coming 10 years to provide prosperity for all, with world influence and freedom from boom and bust.

THE GOAL, according to the New York governor, should be an increase in our growth rate from 4 per cent to 5 or 6 per cent annually. This should be achieved by checking the trend toward fewer work hours per week, with full acceptance of automation, increased government benefits and social services and more foreign aid.

The rosy prospect, providing the production per worker can be increased by 3 per cent, would be an increase in the per capita income by 75 per cent with a cut in taxes of 15 per cent by 1970.

The Rockefeller plan as elaborated would also provide much more government — 50 per cent more so-called services.

The British and German governments stand not on speculation such as Rockefeller elaborates but on a decade of progress and increasing prosperity.

In the campaign which preceded the British general election, domestic affairs centered upon the very issues which Rockefeller raises. Labor party leader Gaitskell's prescription was, in fact, cut from the same pattern as that used by the New York governor — more production through more government spending and reckless promises of tax reductions.

For a while, the tide seemed to be running against the Conservatives. Then Prime Minister Macmillan bluntly announced that he was not going to engage in a contest of bidding with Gaitskell.

He stood on the record and the present well - being of the British people. In his last television appearance he rose to real statesmanship in an appeal to the pride and dignity of the British people. The result we now know.

In contrast, the Rockefeller appeal has, surprisingly enough, no idealism. It is a bid to the appetites and pocketbook.

IN CONTRAST to Rockefeller, the German minister of economic affairs, Ludwig Erhard, who has by fairly common consent been the master mariner of German affairs since 1948, rejects any specific goal. His statistics concern the past 10 years, not the probabilities of the next 10 years. In his rejection of the concept of planning, quite a novelty in German affairs, he stands by two concepts.

The first is that the government has maintained and will maintain a stable currency; second, incentives rather than exhortation and legal coercion are used to lift the product per worker. The record proves the wisdom of his simple philosophy.

He might even argue the accuracy of the Rockefeller statement that the United States has "the most dynamic economic system yet devised."

Surely, we have been "the most-dynamic" in the past. But considering where Germany was when Erhart took office, its rate of growth and its present strength suggest a dynamic quality that no such prescription as Rockefeller proposes can produce.

The Lineup

By Truman Twill

Maybe football has the right idea.

Maybe all the rest of us should be listed on the roster by weight and height, with Alma Mater made to take full responsibility for its part in our development.

ADOLPHUS (BUTCHER BOY) PONK: 6 -2, 247 pounds, State Industrial, '31. Corporation president. Age 49. Top Ten Salary List '51, '52 and '53. Witness in Congressional investigation '54. Under federal indictment '55. Present address: Ft. Leavenworth.

A roster, itself, would be revolutionary in ordinary employment. There should be fewer secrets, between the public and the employer. The people have a right to know.

Every spectator of the Great American Game should be sold a program at a nominal charge, all proceeds to be turned over to the employes' mutual fund. All necessary information should be available.

WHARTON N. FIDUCIARY: 5-10, 137 pounds. P.S. 11, High School, Correspondence Courses. Age 61. Passed over for promotion from 1937 to 1957, then catapulted to power as stand-in president until boss's son finished Harvard Business School.

MYRTLE V. NEQUE: 5-6, 94 pounds. Age 56. Elementary, high school, business school, beautician school and survival training courses. As assistant to President Fiduciary holds tyrannical power but can be talked to if can be persuaded to flip switch on hearing aid. Fond of liquid-center light chocolates.

JOHN A. CASS: 5-11½, 178 pounds. Public school, Slippery Rock Normal, Comatose State, Age 35. Man in motion specialist. Gives bench strength to organization. Being groomed for No. 1 spot if boss's son decides to make a career in low finance. All of us love Jack.

Information of this nature in a booklet available to the public would clear up misunderstandings before they had a chance to become troublesome.

Douglas Dissents

By David Lawrence

Justice Shifts Viewpoint From 1944 Case

Lawyers in many parts of the country are expressing surprise at the reasoning used by Justice Douglas of the Supreme Court of the United States in his dissenting opinion in the steel case. They point to it as another example of the tendency of present - day justices to consider themselves as writers of legislation rather than of judicial rulings and as exponents of what the "law of the land" ought to be, rather than what it is in the light of precedents and previous decisions.

David Lawrence

Justice Douglas, in his recent opinion, contradicted the reasoning he himself used when he spoke, not in dissent, but for the majority of the court in a case decided 15 years ago.

The other day, Justice Douglas didn't agree with the eight justices that an 80-day court injunction was necessary, ordering all strikers in the entire steel industry back to work. The dissenting justice said, "There is nothing in this record to sustain the conclusion that it is necessary to send 500,000 men back to work to give the Defense Department all it needs for the nation's 'safety.' "

Justice Douglas seemed to think that a blanket injunction might be proved unnecessary and only a portion of the strikers need return to work. But in the 1944 case, known as Bowles V. Willingham, Justice Douglas, writing in behalf of a majority of the Supreme Court, took a different view of blanket injunctions or court orders.

The case involved the rent-control provisions of the emergency Price Control Act. This law was not unconstitutional, said the Douglas opinion, just because it required the administrator to fix maximum rents which were generally fair and equitable instead of applying the fair and equitable test to each individual landlord.

Incidentally, the landlord got no hearing before the administrator issued his rent-control order, and he was limited solely to judicial review after the order fixing his rent became effective. Justice Douglas called this "due process," and he wrote:

"A MEMBER of the class which is regulated may suffer economic losses not shared by others. His property may lose utility and depreciate in value as a consequence of regulation. But that has never been a barrier to the exercies of police power. . . .

"A nation which can demand the lives of its men and women in the waging of that war is under no constitutional necessity of providing a system of price control on the domestic front which will assure each landlord a 'fair return' on his property."

Justice Douglas is today disturbed that a whole class of workers might be injured by a blanket injunction or order when only an injunction against a part of their number might be necessary. Yet, when dealing with "landlords," he was not concerned by the fact that individual property owners might suffer by a broad rent - control order.

There are those who say that, because the "cold war" isn't a shooting war, it isn't an "emergency." Yet, judging by the amount of money being spent by the government and the vast numbers of men in our armed forces stationed overseas to guard against aggression, the threat of danger is real.

To argue that the ordering of men to work in only a few plants is all that needs to be done disregards the risks to be taken in selecting which plants and what supplies shall be favored.

THERE IS NO provision in existing law which empowers the President to engage in any such discrimination. So far as the government is concerned, it depends on the steel industry as a whole to supply defense needs. There is no way of knowing in advance the damage that might be done by letting some steel plants operate and others stay closed.

Justice Douglas, himself, was quite ready to turn his whole mater over to the District Court to decide. He conceded that the lower court might find that "the only way to remove the peril to national safety caused by the strike was to issue the broad, blanket injunction." But Justice Douglas would have sent the case back for redetermination as to which plants should be reopened.

He wasn't as solicitous of the rights of property owners when in 1944 he did not urge that each case be tried on its merits and that no blanket order be issued.

It is precisely this distortion of judicial power which has occasioned much of the criticism of the present Supreme Court. There is no way of knowing what is the "settled law" because too much support is given to the fallacy that the justices may in each case disregard rulings and precedents of the past and proclaim what the law should be or what the constitution ought to say.

There can be no lasting confidence in a shifting judiciary.

Like Big Daddy, Man

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The Eisenhower administration is nudging the Allies to share the big daddy role. Since World War II this country has shelled out more than 68 billion dollars in foreign aid of all kinds.

The administration is also begnning to talk of the pullback of American troops from Europe. Not immediately, according to Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy, but eventually.

Both Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and Undersecretary Douglas Dillon have joined President Eisenhower in calling on the Allies—in Japan and Europe—to join this country in a stepped-up drive of aid to backward nations.

This idea isn't likely to encounter much opposition in this country but an attempt at a troop pullback any time soon will touch off a fiery fight at home.

The administration could argue in defense of a troop withdrawal that the only real defense of Western Europe lies in missiles and that NATO defense will depend less and less on ground forces.

But Premier Nikita Khrushchev has been calling for withdrawal of both American troops and bases from Europe.

No one here is suggesting abandoning United States bases in Europe since the planes and missiles there are the main deterrent to any Soviet aggression.

But the advocates of a strong NATO — the Atlantic Alliance — would probably interpret a troop pullback not only as an appeasement of Khrushchev but a return toward American isolation.

They could argue that the troops are not only needed on the Continent—to help swell the size of the Allied ground troops — but that their very presence there is assurance of American solidarity with the Allies.

Even now, before Europe is thoroughly guarded with missiles of various ranges, the NATO ground forces apparently are only a shell of what they are supposed to be.

On paper NATO has 21 1-3 divisions of 425,000 men. Actually, they probably have no more than 250,000 men. There are 20 Soviet division in East Germany alone, with 400,000 men. In all, the Soviet Union has about 170 divisions.

Not long ago, when the West was worried the Soviets might try to cut off West Berlin, Eisenhower himself expressed doubt NATO's ground forces could stop the Soviets, and he emphasized the West's main weapon was in the air.

Although Khrushchev has proposed complete disarmament, that's a long way off. This week he reminded the West that if anyone was getting soft it was the West, not the Soviet Union.

He boasted to a group of Soviet journalists that Soviet rocket power is so tremendous it could blast any nation off the face of the earth now.

"Some in the West claim," he said, "that the Soviet Union has changed its policy and therefore it has become easier to talk with us. This is wrong, of course."

He suggested that any brightening of peace prospects was due rather to a change of heart among the capitalist leaders.

County To Gain 2nd Senator, Representative In Next Term

The fact that Columbiana County will elect two state representatives in 1960 and help name a second state senator in the four-county 20th-22nd District was cited today by the County Election Board as the first candidate filed for one of the representative's seats.

Columbiana County will gain the extra two spokesmen in the General Assembly because of periodic reapportionment that repeats its cycle every 6 or 7 terms, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the board, explained. Normally, the county elects a lone state representative and a single state senator is chosen in the 20th-22nd District.

Confirming an announcement last week, Bernard Freeman of Columbiana filed for the Democratic nomination for state representative. A Leetonia jewelry store operator, he is a deputy in the county auditor's office. The incumbent is Clarence L. Wetzel of Lisbon, Republican.

Sen. Arthur Blake of Martins Ferry, Democrat, will remain in the state senate two more years, regardless of the outcome of the 1960 election, because he was elected last for a four-year term. The second senator named from the district next year may be limited to a two-year term.

The district includes Columbiana, Jefferson, Belmont and Harrison Counties.

Because many Ohio officials were elected to new four-year terms at the last state election, the 1960 ballot will be particularly short, O'Hanlon pointed out. Ohio will name a state auditor, two Supreme Court judges for full terms and one Supreme Court judge for an unexpired term.

Kaycees Conduct Memorial Service

Three deceased members of the Carroll Council 509, Knights of Columbus, and one from Wellsville Council 507 were remembered at the annual commemorative services Tuesday night at the K. of C. Home here. Fifty attended.

The deceased members include John Doherty, Herbert Finlay and Daniel Megailey, all of the local council, and Anthony Buchmann of Wellsville.

Participating in the ceremonies were Fr. Thomas G. Mulhearn, chaplain of the local council and an assistant pastor of St. Aloysius Catholic Church; Charles McBride, J. E. Johnston, W. E. McCormack, James McGowan, W. J. Bamer, F. R. O'Hanlon, and Robert Hissom, all of the local council, and George Prokop and Fred Morrow of the Wellsville council. James Buchheit, grand knight, presided.

2 Youths Given Penal Terms

A Lisbon youth and one from Wellsville, who violated terms of probation, were sentenced to penal institutions and a Salem area youth was placed on two years probation at hearings Tuesday before Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp at Lisbon.

William Elson House, 21, of Pritchard Ave. was sentenced to 1-20 years at the Ohio State Penitentiary.

He pleaded guilty, along with Kenneth McVay, 24, also of Lisbon, to theft of a car owned by Ralph Stumpo of Leetonia May 21 and requested probation. McVay also pleaded guilty and his request for probation still is pending.

Walter Sloan, 23, of 1033 Commerce St., Wellsville, who along with Francis Jerry Clark pleaded guilty of burglary of the Pennzoil Service Station on Sept. 28. They received probation Oct. 27. Sloan was brought into court by Adult Probation Officer Richard Rose for probation violation and was sentenced to 1-15 years at the Ohio State Reformatory at Mansfield.

Sloan admitted theft of clothing from a Wisconsin salesman's car parked on Main St., Wellsville. Sloan had been on probation only two weeks when he took the clothing, Rose said.

Ernest Troy Watson, 20, of Salem R. D. was placed on probation for auto theft in Salem Sept. 5. He pleaded guilty Sept. 28.

The Midland Rotary Club will meet Thursday at 6:15 p. m. at Larry's Restaurant with Tom Fannin as program chairman, Donald Green, secretary said.

Due to Thanksgiving, no meeting will be held Nov. 26. The club will hold a dinner honoring Midland Lincoln High School football coaches and players Dec. 3. Supt. Ralph H. Jewell will be program chairman.

Lincoln's outstanding lineman of the year will receive the Martell award and the backfield player of the year, the Petrosky and White award.

Firemen Quell Blaze At Gavers Area Home

WEST POINT — A fire caused by a defective chimney damaged part of the roof and wall at the home of Mary Burton of Route 164 near Gavers this morning about 9.

Fire Chief John Tusek said damage amounted to about $200 before firemen quelled the flames, which spread from the hot chimney.

Firemen extinguished a fire which burned a hog pen at the Miles Randolph farm on Blacks Rd. southwest of Lisbon Tuesday night about 10. Damage was minor, Chief Tusek said.

Jerry Lewis Collapses, Overexertion Blamed

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Comedian Jerry Lewis, 33, collapsed on a movie set after rushing up a flight of stairs several times Tuesday.

A heart attack was feared, but his physician later blamed overexertion.

The actor was given oxygen and went back to work after resting two hours.

to appear for a scheduled hearing this morning in Municipal Court.

Paul Elliott, 38, was charged with crashing the traffic light at the intersection after a collision that involved his 1955 sedan and a 1953 sedan operated by Jay W. Williamson, 30, of 2037 Clark Ave., Wellsville. Elliott's car was undamaged. The left front headlight and bumper of Williamson's car were damaged, police said.

Steubenville Driver Hurt In Pennsy Crash

A Steubenville motorist received a fractured nose and contusions in a head-on collision with another auto about 8:05 p. m. Tuesday, some 5 miles west of Florence on Route 22, the Carnegie barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police said.

The car of Abraham D. Adler, 38, was apparently hit as an auto driven by Ralph H. Stringert, 40, of Pittsburgh, pulled from behind a truck tractor, police said.

Adler was taken to the Ohio Valley Hospital at Steubenville. Stringert was unhurt. The accident still is under investigation.

Wellsville Youth, 19, Hurt In Auto Mishap

A Wellsville youth is hospitalized today in Steubenville with injuries received when his auto left a highway Tuesday night at 8:25 in Jefferson County.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol said Robert Leslie, 19, of Wellsville, R. D. 1 was injured when his auto veered off the right side of Route 7 south of Brilliant and crashed into a bridge.

The auto was demolished, they added.

Leslie, in "satisfactory" condition at the Ohio Valley Hospital, suffered a possible fractured skull and cuts of the right arm. X-rays were taken this morning, the hospital said.

Man Escapes Injury When Auto Hits Steer

A Homeworth area driver escaped injury when his car struck and injured a steer on the Georgetown Rd. this morning at 1:30 about 9 miles southwest of Salem.

Carl Flenniken, 20, of Homeworth was driving south when the steer ran from the side of the road, according to the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon, which said the car's front was damaged heavily. The owner of the steer was not located immediately.

Army To Test 'Copter Armed With 6 Missiles

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — A helicopter armed with six missiles capable of destroying tanks will be tested by the Army Missile Agency in Alabama, the Bell Helicopter Corp. said Tuesday.

The helicopter carries six SS-II missiles made by Nord Aviation of France. The missiles can carry anti-tank, anti-personnel, or smoke warheads, the company said. Maximum practical range of the missiles is 3,500 yards.

Meeting Canceled

LISBON — A meeting of the Lisbon Grange slated Saturday night has been canceled, James Crowell, master, announced. The next meeting will be Dec. 4.

City Readies Lots For Auto Parking

First work has been completed on converting two city-owned lots at 3rd and Market Sts. into metered off-street parking sites, Safety-Service Director Joseph F. Ross said today.

The lots have been graded and entrances have been built, the director said. Council appropriated $3,500 Monday night for the project, including blacktop surfacing and installation of meters.

Another new lot opposite City Hall on W. 6th St. still has not been opened to parking, although a crushed slag surface has been applied. The city is awaiting delivery of parking meters and 8-x-10-inch timbers that will serve as "bumper strips" to prevent autos from nosing into adjoining buildings, the director said.

Three or four days of warm weather will allow time for the blacktop surfaces to be applied to the three lots, the director said.

Ohio Man, 36, Killed In Car-Truck Crash

MOUNT VERNON, Ohio (AP)— Donald Ray Arnholt, 36, of nearby Danville was killed today on U.S. 36 seven miles east of Mount Vernon, when his car collided headon with a truck.

The State Highway Patrol said a truck driven by Milo A. Boreman, 31, of Wooster was trying to pass another truck at the time of the crash.

Judge Cites Firm

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Discount Health & Beauty Aids, Inc. here was enjoined by Common Pleas Judge Erskine Maiden Jr. Tuesday from selling eight cosmetic products at below Ohio fair trade prices. The restrainer, believed to be the first under the four-week-old Ohio fair trade law, was sought by Revlon, Inc. of New York City, manufacturer of the eight products involved. Judge Maiden said he would decide later on Revlon's petition for an award of $9,300 in damages.

To Take New Post

CINCINNATI (AP)—A Presbyterian woman minister, the Rev. Miss Wilmina Rowland, is leaving Cincinnati to take a post with the National Presbyterian Board of Christian Education at Philadelphia. The Cincinnati Presbytery announced the move Tuesday. The Rev. Miss Rowland has been associate minister of the Indian Hill Church.

Couple Resides In Vanport After Nuptials Friday

Mr. and Mrs. James Hinzman are residing in a newly furnished apartment in Vanport following their wedding Friday in the Patterson Heights Presbyterian Church in Patterson Borough. The Rev. Howard Elliot, pastor, performed the double-ring ceremony at 7 o'clock.

The bride is the former Miss Karen Tresler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Tresler of Ohioville, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Hinzman of Beaver Falls.

A white, floor-length gown of sequins, lace and net was worn by the bride, given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Donald Renn, of South Beaver Township. Long, pointed sleeves enhanced the high neckline and fitted bodice of the frock. The bouffant skirt was of net, highlighted with matching lace. Her shoulder veil of illusion was caught to a crown of matching lace and sequins. She carried a cascade arrangement of white roses. All the familiar traditions were observed.

Mrs. Donald Reen, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. Her street - length dress was of beige lace. She wore matching accessories.

Miss Sandy Hinzman, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. Her blue nylon frock was of street length and her accessories of matching color. Both attendants wore corsages of yellow chrysanthemums.

Dale Scott of Beaver Falls served as best man.

A reception was given in the White Township fire hall by the parents of the principals following the ceremony. A three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bridal pair, centered the bridal table.

Coroner Checks Cause Of Dayton Man's Death

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Cause of the death early today of Carl Ward Neuzenhalzer, 67, was being checked by the coroner's office after the Dayton man was found face down on the floor of his smoke-filled house.

Firemen who found him said a motor on a furnace blower had failed, permitting the smoke to pervade the house.

Neuzenhalzer, dead on arrival at a hospital, died either of smoke inhalation or, more probably, a heart attack, authorities said.

Anesthesia in surgery was first employed by Doctor Crawford Long of Georgia, in 1841.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Jolt Startled Overweight Into Action

If you have nothing fit to wear, chances are you're getting fat. That blunt statement jolted one overweight into action. Her story is heartening.

Ida Jean Kain

"In a bit over two years, I gradually went from 153 to 178 pounds. I got to the point where I wouldn't step on the scales—stopped weighing at 165. Your jolting sentence about having nothing fit to wear hit me where I lived. Reluctantly I stepped on the dusty scales. . . and the pointer zoomed up to 178 pounds.

"In the very next column you told about a woman who reduced from 176 to 153 and streamlined her figure with exercise. Actually, the thing that started me on the slimming road was the fact that this gal before she reduced, had the same weight and measurements as I, except that my hips were two inches bigger—44 inches. She trimmed down and I figured I could, too.

"THE VERY FIRST week I noticed a lot of difference in the fit of my clothes. I lost 5 lbs. In six weeks I have reduced from 178 to 163. I have a large frame and people would never believe I weighed that much.

"Your promise that I could wear a size smaller dress in two months gave me needed inspiration. My sisters were coming to visit me in a few months and I wanted to be wearing that smaller size.

"I followed the exercises 'my model' had taken, plus a few more. On the diet score, I stopped eating sweets. I resolved never to eat before I went to bed. I made it a strict rule not to eat anything after supper at night.

"I tried to cut down at meals by wearing a rubber girdle. This helped me to feel full sooner. The odd part is that I lost so gradually nobody noticed I was losing. After the first week, I never lost more than 2 to 3 pounds a week. And the thinner I get, the less I lose a week. I'm lucky to lose 2 pounds now.

"I feel fine with the extra fat gone I'm a lot peppier. My face is not drawn. I work hard because I do farm work. That spare tire made me tired and out of breath. The tire is gone now.

"Tell your overweights that I had tried time and again with diets, but after a few days was back in the old fattening groove. I didn't actually diet, but cutting down on food and exercising every day really helped me."

—:—

TAKE NOTE, dieters. Because this young woman did heavy farm work, she did not need a strict diet in order to reduce.

Precision calisthenics toned the figure-controlling muscles and streamlined her measurements. Now her clothes fit perfectly.

Boy Celebrating Early Christmas Because Of Eye

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Jackie Foster is celebrating Christmas today.

There's a big tree shining with multi-colored lights and tinsel in the Foster household.

Under it are many gifts for Jackie, including the toy rifle he always wanted.

Jackie couldn't wait until December 25 because he probably will be blind by then. His parents wanted him to see one more Christmas.

The seven-year-old boy will enter Wills Eye Hospital Wednesday to await a tragic fate that only a miracle could preclude. Jackie is a victim of cancer.

When he was 13 months old his left eye was removed because of a malignant retino blastoma tumor inside it.

Recently the disease struck Jackie in the right eye. Doctors say the same type of tumor appeared, but they want to be sure. They'll conduct tests before operating.

Chester Post Assists VFW Seal Campaign

A contribution of $25 to the national Veterans of Foreign Wars Christmas Seal drive was authorized by Chester Post 6450 at a meeting Monday night at the post home.

Four applications for membership were approved. Refreshments were served 17 by Kenneth Williams and Willar Enochs. Earl Pittenger, commander was in charge.

The next meeting will be Dec. 7.

Cattle Feeders Slate Area Grading Session

LISBON — Columbiana County farmers who buy feeder cattle to fatten and sell have been invited to a Carroll County feeder meeting Saturday at 1 p. m. at the Earl Michael farm 8 miles south of Kensington on Route 9.

Charles Ingraham of Ohio State University will grade feeder calves according to standards. A discussion period will follow.

The meeting was set up by the Carroll County agricultural extension office for area farmers with feeder cattle.

Before Setting Up Ohio Program

DiSalle To Meet With 4 Eastern Health Officials

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle will meet with mental health officials of four eastern states next week before he sets up a "stimulated" Ohio program for 1960.

The governor indicated he might give an advance hint of his ideas in an address today at a luncheon of the Cleveland Mental Health Assn.

Next Monday DiSalle will meet with New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and mental health officials in Albany. Then he will go to Boston, Mass., for more discussions and a possible meeting with Gov. Foster Furcolo.

On Tuesday DiSalle will meet with Delaware's Gov. J. Caleb Boggs and state health officials near Wilmington. Later he will talk with Connecticut health administrators and Gov. Abraham Ribicoff at Hartford.

DiSalle, who recently toured all Ohio mental and penal institutions, said he had gained a number of ideas on his Ohio tour.

"I know the things I want to discuss," DiSalle told newsmen Tuesday. "I want to get the recommendations (for an Ohio program) this year so that next year we can start out on a stimulated program."

The governor said he wanted to check his own ideas with other states' officials.

DiSalle plans to leave for the four states Sunday by Highway Patrol or private plane. He said he selected the states after consulting a manual of the American Psychiatric Assn. and the National Assn. for Mental Health. Ohio was ranked 10th to 41st among the various categories listed in the manual. The groupings included such items as full time employes, outpatient clinics and the like.

DiSalle said he thinks he will be "in a position to make recommendations" when he returns from the trip.

League Urges Return Of Diabetic Test Strip

County residents who obtained diabetic test kits when they received free chest X-ray examinations during visits of the mobile unit recently are urged to make the test and send the test strip for processing.

All persons who received the X-ray in October when the unit visited East Liverpool have received reports on the chest examination according to Miss Lillian Schroeder, executive director of the County Public Health League.

Those persons who obtained the free diabetic test kits are asked to process the kit and mail the strip to the league at Lisbon for the test, she said.

The testing is a new service by the league, and is endorsed by the County Medical Society.

80 Attend Salineville Dinner For Gridders

SALINEVILLE — Approximately 80 attended an informal dinner for Salineville High School football players and their guests Monday night, sponsored by the mothers of players.

Movies of the Salineville-United Local game were shown and a dance followed in the school gymnasium.

The Athletic Boosters Club met Tuesday night in the school cafeteria and the Band Boosters Club will meet tonight at 8.

Crucible Sees High Level Of Steel Output

Crucible Steel Co. shareholders were told today that a demand for steel is expected to allow business to continue at a high level.

In the Shareholders' Review for the quarter which ended Sept. 30, Joel Hunter, president, commented:

"Our order books reflect the large pent-up demand for steel which will provide a high level of business for some time. Our financial position remains strong and we are proceeding with our capital expenditure program as planned."

Hunter said Crucible lost $2 million in the third quarter on sales of $24.6 million. Net income for the nine months to Sept. 30 was $6.6 million with sales of $179.1 million.

Because normal accounting activities could not be carried on because of the strike, the results are partly estimated.

"Due to the unusually high level of sales in the first half of the year when customers increased their purchases in anticipation of the strike, sales for the first nine months approached the record levels of 1956 and 1957," Hunter said.

Kiwanians At Chester Told Of Year's Plans

"Freedom Is Up to You" will be the Kiwanis International theme for 1960, Alvin (Pete) Arner, president-elect of the Chester club, reported at a meeting Tuesday night at the City Hall auditorium.

Arner outlined Kiwanis plans for the coming year. He said a training conference will be held Sunday at Wheeling to which club members have been invited to attend with him.

Tom Ridge, chairman of the annual dinner for college students and lady guests of the club, said the event Dec. 29 will be held at the Methodist Church Memorial Center.

R. M. McFarland, president, was in charge.

Summitville Couple Observes Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. William Dowling of Summitville celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday with open house for friends and relatives.

Miss Janet Gromley of Canton visited friends and relatives over the weekend.

Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hawkins were Mr. and Mrs. Orlan Stoffer and family of Minerva, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hawkins of Akron and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hawkins of Canfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Donaldson visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Garvin Pitts.

Wilbur Zinkan Named As Township Trustee

Wilbur Zinkan of Malpewood was appointed a Liverpool Township trustee Tuesday night at a special meeting of the trustees at the home of Simon Hall of Beacon Way, clerk.

Zinkan, 59, of Malvernon St. replaces Willard Sanford, who moved to Florida in July. Zinkan is employed at Lock 8 at Newell. Six other men had filled applications for the post.

The trustees are to meet tonight at the fire station at Dixonville to see a demonstration of a resuscitator being considered for purchase for the Liverpool East department.

No Nagging Backache Means a Good Night's Sleep

Nagging backache, headache, or muscular aches and pains may come on with over-exertion, emotional upsets or day to day stress and strain. And folks who eat and drink unwisely sometimes suffer mild bladder irritation...with that restless, uncomfortable feeling.

If you are miserable and worn out because of these discomforts, Doan's Pills often help by their pain relieving action, by their soothing effect to ease bladder irritation, and by their mild diuretic action through the kidneys—tending to increase the output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

So if nagging backache makes you feel dragged-out, miserable, with restless, sleepless nights, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, get the same happy relief millions have enjoyed for over 60 years. Ask for new, large, economy size and save money. Get Doan's Pills today!

Board Clears Plan To Study School Needs

LISBON — An architect's survey for construction of new school facilities was ordered by the Lisbon Board of Education Tuesday night in hopes of having preliminary plans ready in time for submitting a proposed bond issue at the May primary.

Members of the board, along with six representatives of the Committee for Better Schools, discussed the need for new school facilities.

Atty. William Moore, spokesman for the committee, said the group met Sunday but could not come to a unanimous decision on whether to place a bond issue for a new high school on the primary ballot.

Board members thanked the committee for its efforts, and voted to contact Kling & Frost, Youngstown architect firm, to study the school building needs.

The board authorized purchase of a $500 portable fumes hood for the high school science laboratory, with $250 of the cost to be paid by federal funds from the National Defense Educational Fund.

Application was made with the Ohio Board of Education for approval of the purchase of a new school bus before next year. It is hoped the No. 4 bus can be kept as a spare vehicle since the resale value is only $150.

Supt. Loren Early was requested to obtain bids for a new electric drinking fountain to replace one in use for over 10 years. Supt. Early filed reports on roof guarantees for the high school and Lincoln School, a rating sheet on the commercial office and other school matters.

Principal George Nace was granted permission to attend a meeting of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools at Chicago March 27-April 1.

Theodore Greener was granted permission to attend an Ohio Music Association meeting at Columbus Dec. 3-4.

The board authorized payments to Mrs. Mildred Ashbridge, school nurse, for transporting ill students home when parents are unable to pick them up.

The annual Senior Class trip to Washington and New York was approved.

George Nace, faculty manager, reported receipts for four home football games — East Palestine, $2,220; Sebring, $671; Louisville, $676, and Jackson Memorial, $613.

The next meeting will be Dec. 9.

Syracuse and Holy Cross started their football rivalry in 1905.

County Board Sets $43,680 For Budget

LISBON — A 1960 budget of $43,680 was approved by the Columbiana County Board of Education Monday night. This is some $300 less than the current operating budget.

Under the section of the budget paid by the state, salary increases were authorized for Loren Ruff, county elementary supervisor, who will receive $7,700 compared to his present $7,250 salary, and for Mrs. Marilyn Solak, secondary supervisor, who will get $7,100, compared to her present $6,832.

Their salaries are part of the budget which is paid by state funds. Both will receive $600 a year for mileage expenses.

The county's share of the budget includes the salary of County Supt. James McBride, $8,500, plus $600 mileage; secretary, $4,000; attendance officer, $2,380, plus $450 mileage; expenses, $1,900; wages and clerical help, $800; communication, $850.

Postage, $350; office equipment, $1,700; printing, $700; equipment repairs, $100; board's share of teacher retirement fund, $2,700; board's share of administrators' retirement fund, $800; service fund, $500; miscellaneous expense, $800; expenses of educational meetings, $500, and testing and guiding $600.

The 1959 appropriation was $43,972.

The board also authorized transfer of $42.81 from the emergency fund to the teacher retirement fund, which was less than listed.

Supt. McBride said 36 vials of Salk vaccine had been ordered for the Beaver Local School District. He also reported on a rural area superintendents' national convention at Seattle Oct. 24-28.

The board agreed to participate in a government program to pay 50 per cent toward purchase of science equipment and a tape recorder for the county office.

McBride read an opinion from Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy that local school board resolutions requiring immunization of students are valid and enforceable.

Mrs. Freeman Strabley of Salineville reported on a meeting of the Ohio School Boards Association convention at Cleveland last week. Atty. Donald Elliott reported on a meeting of the National Organization of the Legal Profession for Education at Cleveland Thursday and Friday.

Fred Lohman, attendance officer, reported 27 home visits made in October, 80 calls and 1,173 miles traveled.

Dan Furey of Hanoverton, member-elect, attended. Atty. Elliott, vice president, presided in the absence of Ben Weingart, president.

The next meeting will be Dec. 15.

Actor Sterling Hayden Faces Contempt Count

SAUSALITO, Calif. (AP)—Actor Sterling Hayden is motoring to Los Angeles today to face contempt of court charges.

He and his four children planned to arrive there tonight.

Hayden and the youngster arrived here Sunday after a 10-month South Seas voyage on his schooner "Wanderer."

The contempt charges stemmed from Hayden's defying a Los Angeles court order which forbade him to take his children out of the court's jurisdiction.

3 Men Suffer Injury In Accidents At Work

Three men injured in work mishaps were treated at City Hospital Tuesday.

Donald Pethtel, 25, of Shadyside Ave., an employe of the Lake Marwin Association, suffered a laceration of the left ankle on wire mesh.

Joseph Karbolic, 48, of Weirton, an employe of the Foster-Wheeler Corp. at the Stratton super-dam project, received injuries to the fingers of a hand when caught in a hoist.

Harold Herrell, 20, of Waterloo St. suffered a laceration of the back of the head when struck by an air hose while working for the Wirt & Starn Co. of Wooster, a construction firm.

Cranberries Back

CINCINNATI (AP) — Canned cranberries are back on shelves of Kroger and Albers chain markets in Greater Cincinnati after clearance by the office of the Pure Food and Drug Administration. Officials of both firms announced the moves Tuesday, and said all cranberry products had been removed from stores last week after federal officials warned of finding some cranberries contaminated with weed killer.

West Point PTA Holds Discussion Of By-Laws

WEST POINT — A discussion on by-laws of the West Point Parent-Teacher Association was conducted by Matthew Amato, president, at a meeting Monday evening at the school.

Members will vote on the by-laws at the next meeting, which will be Dec. 14 due to the Christmas vacation.

The association has 56 members, according to a membership committee report. The Rev. H. W. Applegate of the East Liverpool-Lisbon Rd. gave devotions.

Fourth grade mothers donated and served lunch.

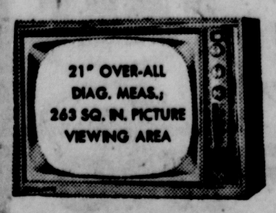

Dayton Man Killed

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—John L. Meece, 63, of Dayton, was fatally injured in a traffic accident here Tuesday night. Police said Meece's car apparently glanced off another vehicle and crashed into a utility pole.

Salineville Resident Takes Bergholz Girl As His Bride

Miss Karen Hanson, daughter of Mrs. Meryl Hanson of Bergholz, became the bride of James Bray Jr. of Salineville Saturday at the Bergholz United Presbyterian Church. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Bray of High St., Salineville.

The single-ring ceremony was conducted by Donald Archer, pastor of the Salineville Church of Christ.

Given in marriage by her brother, Keith Hanson, the bride wore a two-piece, fitted white wool suit with white accessories, and carried a Colonial bouquet of white chrysanthemums, carnations, stephanotis and long ribbon streamers.

Mrs. Kay Turney of Bergholz, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a green ensemble with a bouquet of white pom-pons.

Robert Geise of Buffalo, college classmate of the bridegroom, was best man. Deri Sue Rome of Minerva, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl, wearing an empire style dress with tiers of ruffles and a nosegay of white pompons.

Mrs. Bray and Mrs. Hanson wore gowns of Dior blue with white and blue accessories and similar corsages of pom-pons.

The bride, a graduate of Bergholz High School, is a receptionist for a dentist. Her husband, a 1954 graduate of Salineville High School, was graduated from Fenn College at Cleveland in June and is employed as a laboratory technician at the Weirton Steel Co.

A reception followed at the bride's home where a three-tiered wedding cake, topped by a miniature bridal couple, centered the table. After a brief honeymoon, they will reside at Bergholz.

A surprise birthday anniversary dinner was held for Mrs. Emma Whelan of Jefferson St. Sunday at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Whelan, of W. Main St. A cake with candles flanked with lighted tapers centered the table.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Catherine McLaughlin, Mrs. Elizabeth MacMurray, Mrs. Ann Grandvier and daughter, Clara, and John Whelan, all of Lakewood.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Walter of Minerva and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Crumbley of Wellsville were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rutledge of R. D. 1.

Mrs. Lawrence Earl and Mrs. Glenn Trail visited at East Liverpool Saturday.

Asks Books Removed

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Mahoning Valley Distributing Agency, Inc. has asked retail dealers to remove from display and return for credit 14 magazines and four books which were banned from news stands last Friday by a temporary injunction.

Officer Re-Elected By Palsy Group

Mrs. Martha Garren was elected to her second term as president at the meeting of the Parental Group of the Columbiana County Affiliate of the United Cerebral Palsy Association Monday night in the clinic rooms of the Mary Patterson Memorial.

Other officers who will serve are Mrs. Marilyn Wagner, vice president; Mrs. Jean White, secretary; Mrs. Clara Morgan, treasurer; Mrs. Janice Southall, chaplain, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mahon, welfare directors. Committee chairmen are Mrs. Phyllis Hupp, social; Mrs. Sylvia Weinbren, decorating, and Ralph Hupp, entertainment.

Thirty attended the family turkey coverdish dinner preceding the meeting. Mrs. Southall gave the invocation.

Mrs. Garren conducted business. Mrs. Ernest Call reported on the transportation problem.

A work party is scheduled for Dec. 13 when the rooms will be decorated for the annual Christmas party for the children Dec. 18.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: For my 19th birthday my boy friend gave me a diamond.

My mother says it is so small that he should be ashamed of himself. Also, she wants me to return it and tell him I'd rather have no ring than one that is "embarrassing" to show.

I am not embarrassed. The ring is what he can afford and I'm happy he was sensible and didn't go into debt for a larger one. She says an engagement ring should last forever and if I don't take her advice I'll be sorry later. What is your opinion?—DENNY.

-:-

Dear Denny: I have news for your mother. A small diamond will last just as long as a large one. Maybe longer—because sometimes the larger ones are repossessed by the finance company or the credit manager of the store.

Tell your mother to stop trying to brainwash you with her warped notions of what is important. Your sense of values is better than hers. Good luck.

Time To Call Hand

Dear Ann: Where do parents' responsibility end? We raised five children and survived two periods of unemployment when I went out and worked.

After 29 years (and two in-laws living with us) our oldest daughter tells us she's unhappy in her marriage and wants to come home with her three children.

Her husband is easy going, makes a good living and the kids adore him. But he caught her cheating and slapped her face. I'm sure he must have been pushed to the brink.

Our daughter is pretty and lively and I have reason to believe she has had a few affairs with other men.

I'm not in good health and my in-laws are trying at times. My husband is nervous and three youngsters would be bad for him. We are crowded as it is. Four more would be impossible! Yet we love our daughter and grandchildren and don't want to turn our backs on them. What shall we do? —M.A.C.

-:-

Dear M.A.C.: If you want to help your daughter, don't make it easy for her to break up her marriage. Urge her to seek the help of a clergyman or a marriage counselor. These experts in the field have saved many situations; situations which were "beyond hope."

Make it plain to your daughter if she leaves her husband she's on her own. From the sound of things you have your hands plenty full as it is.

Timely Advice

Dear Ann: We've been married seven years and have four lovely kids. My husband says I'm a "nagger." If you agree with him, then I'm willing to go down in defeat.

This is what we fight about: I phone him at the office every day at 4 p.m. if he hasn't phoned to tell me what time he'll be home for dinner. He says people in the office make remarks when I call and he wants me to cut it out.

When I don't know what time he's coming home the kids and I wait and then they get mean. Sometimes I give the kids their dinner at 7:30 p.m. and then he walks in at 10 o'clock and I have to get back in the kitchen. I need advice.—B.C.

-:-

Dear B.C.: Stop calling your husband at the office if he doesn't like it. Tell him if you don't hear from him by 4 p.m. you will assume he'll be home by 6 p.m. Agree to wait until 6:30 p.m., if he doesn't show by then, eat with the kids and let him scrounge around by himself.

If he calls and says he'll be home too late for the kids to wait, feed them at 6 p.m., eat some bread and butter, wait for him and have dinner together.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Widow's Pension Now Equalized

An "equalization" feature of the new pension law, which becomes effective July 1, will benefit many widows of Veterans of World War II and the Korean Conflict, A. G. Bille, contact representative - in-charge of the Veterans Administration Office at Stubenville, pointed out today.

Previously, a widow of World War II and the Korean Conflict was eligible for pension only if her husband had some degree of service-connected disability at the time of death.

After July 1, Bille said, the widow will merely have to show that the veteran was in active wartime service for 90 days or more and that he was discharged under other than dishonorable conditions.

World War I widows have always needed only this simple active duty requirement.

The pension bill allows a graduated monthly payment of $60, $45 or $25, depending on whether the outside annual income of the widow was $600, $1,200 or $1,800, respectively. Above $1,800, no pension is allowed.

If there are children, the pension and income limitations are higher, Bille said.

For a widow with one child, the monthly benefit is $75, $60 or $40, depending on income limitations of $1,000, $2,000 or $3,000, respectively. For each additional child, an additional $15 a month is allowed.

Cut flowers can be made to last longer by adding two or three small pieces of white soap to the water in which they stand.

Marine Reserve Unit Now Is Rifle Company

The 76th Infantry Co. of Steubenville, a Marine Corps Reserve unit which serves as headquarters for reserve units in East Liverpool, has been redesignated as a rifle company.

First Sgt. D. H. Horne Jr. said the unit was redesignated in connect with an overall reorganization of the Marine Corps Reserve to bring it in line with the Fleet Marine Force.

The action allows for the addition to the company of a weapons platoon consisting of machineguns and rockets and will permit a greater latitude in training, according to Capt. J. C. McCamic, commanding officer.

2 Speeders Fined

LISBON — Bruce M. Sullivan, 55, of 336 E. Chestnut St., Lisbon, and Frank J. Gorcheff, 32, of Columbiana R. D. 1 were fined $5 and costs each Tuesday by County Judge James L. MacDonald for speeding. They were cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Raises Of $75 Planned For 5

Five municipal department heads would share in $75-monthly raises recommended to Council Monday night in a finance committee report, Councilman George E. Willshaw, chairman of the committee, said today.

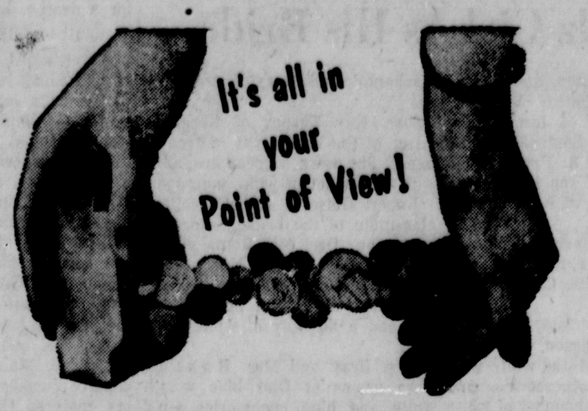

The committee's recommendation would cover Police Chief A. J. Radeschi, Fire Chief Charles Bryan, Incinerator Supt. James A. McKinnon, Street Supt. W. M. Laughlin and Charles Huddlestun, superintendent of the sewage treatment plant, Willshaw said.

Harold Peterson, head of the water department distribution crew, also is a department head, but his wage rate is controlled by the Board of Public Utilities, which administers the water department, he added.

The proposed increase is part of a long-standing Council plan to establish a greater differential in the pay rates of department heads and the men whom they supervise, Willshaw explained. The present monthly rates, which range from $370 to $400, do not provide incentive for a man to want to rise from the ranks and they do not compensate department heads adequately for their additional responsibilities, Willshaw said.

The raise proposed for the department heads was listed erroneously as $5 monthly in yesterday's account of the committee report.

The report also called for $150 year-end bonuses to all appointive employes with at least 6 months' service and salary increases for most of the Democratic officials-elect who will take office Jan. 1. Council is scheduled to act on the committee's recommendations before the end of November.

Out Of The Air

By JOHN CROSBY

Unexpected Aspects Enliven Television

This season has been full of small rewarding glimpses of television at its most unexpected, which is to say television at its best. One of the treasures was a glimpse of a sober, witty and bright-eyed Jackie Gleason trading badinage with a roaring Brendan Behan who was being terribly Irish and very undisciplined on CBS-TV's "Small World." In discussing the art of conversation, Mr. Behan practically killed it dead.

John Crosby

But what intrigued me was not the spectacle of the superbly gifted Irishman drunk on television, though it had its moments, too, but the fact that it seemed to be such an elegant riposte to Dr. Frank Stanton's claim that all television should be unrehearsed and unrigged.

Never was anything less rigged than Mr. Behan, who sang songs and all but fell asleep right on camera. The program also afforded an aspect of Gleason, quite a renowned tosspot in his own right, which the public doesn't often see—the literate, humble, quick - witted man of many talents.

-:-

"THE WICKED Scheme of Jebal Deeks" (Startime NBC, Tuesday last week, 9:30-10:30) was unexpected, largely because it brought Alec Guiness' marvelously expressive face to television at all.

The story of a bank clerk who exacts a terrible revenge on the bank he feels has slighted him, by putting money in the accounts — stealing, he decided, was much too easy — was a little long-winded, a little tenuous for an hour.

But it contained some wonderful shots of that great actor — tossing a trenchcoat insouciantly over one shoulder with just a bit of bank clerkly swagger, or the wicked glint behind his spectacles as he locks the chairman of the board in the vaults, or the long, long pauses as an idea sinks home, or his maniacal cackle.

Frank Schaffner's direction had grace, charm, and a sort of spoofing solemnity about its bank scenes. I though Pat Barrie was an eyeful, but the show belonged to Sir Alec and whenever he disappeared even briefly from the screen the story sagged dangerously.

AND SPEAKING of the unexpected, Hubbell Robinson's Startime is itself an exercise in unexpectedness — no two of these shows being even remotely alike.

So far there was the opening variety show with Rosalind Russell, Jerry Lewis, trying to be Al Jolson, Ingrid Bergman doing Henry James, Art Linkletter and his kids, Dean Martin with his friends, and Guiness being his imperishable self.

Then Jack Benny, George Burns, Eddie Cantor and George Jessel—a superb lineup of old timers — took over the stage.

Startime shows haven't all been good but they've all been exciting and that, above all, is what TV needs.

What is killing the Westerns this year is the fact that every Western is so predictable — after we've been deluged with them the last couple of years — that they're putting the customers to sleep.

-:-

AS TO "I, Don Quixote," I think an A for effort is due Dale Wasserman, who wrote it, and the sponsor who paid for it, and David Susskind who produced it — but I'm afraid there were great gaps in the story as drama.

What Wasserman attempted was to put Don Quixote and its author, Migeul de Cervantes, into the same pigeonhole, showing how the one was an outgrowth of the life led by the other.

There was a notable effort and frequently it was stunningly successful. But frequently it wasn't.

I must confess that I am unable to keep from squirming at any play wherein a bunch of drunken $250 actors pound their tankards on the picturesque tables at the picturesque tavern and roar: "Hola, there, wench, bringest me a firkin of mead and what dost say to a kiss?"

There was much of this sort of dialogue which always seems to me to be carved out of oak with a dull ax and all of it was delivered in a loud roar which made my head ache.

-:-

WHEN THE ACTORS—and there never was any doubt that they were actors — quieted down a bit there were some moments of pathos and eloquance in Mr. Wasserman's script.

Colleen Dewhurst was electric and unquenchably female as the wench who got mauled by all the tavern drunks.

Lee J. Cobb was very professional but I thought he was terribly miscast as Don Quixote. Eli Wallach was more or less a caricature as Sancho Panza — but I have a strong hunch that was all that could be got out of the part.

Firemen To Hold Children's Party

Two chairmen were named for a children's Christmas party planned in December when the Calcutta volunteer firemen met Monday night. Fifteen attended.

Robert Dunn was named gifts chairman and Richard Wright decorations chairman for the party set for Dec. 23 in the fire hall. Lester McElhaney and David Dray will assist with decorations.

Firemen will be served a dinner tonight at 6:30 in the fire hall by the auxiliary.

A demonstration of use of the resuscitator was presented by Chief Laverne Seckman following business conducted by Norman Neal, president.

The next meeting is Monday night. Firemen will sponsor a round and square dance Saturday night from 9 to 12 in the fire hall.

Marine Corps Seeks Support To Lift Ceiling On Manpower

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Marine Corps is hoping again for congressional support to lift the 175,000 manpower ceiling imposed by the administration.

"We need 200,000 men," said Brig. Gen. Lewis C. Hudson, assistant chief of staff, told newsmen in outlining the corps' present ability and future hopes. Its wishful thinking calls for at least 235,000 men to keep its divisions fully manned and equipped.

Congress several times has provided sufficient funds to increase the Marine Corps to 200,000 men, but the administration has impounded the extra money and held the corps to the 175,000-man ceiling it had recommended. Next year's budget is understood to provide once again for 175,000 Marines.

Gen. Hudson and other Marine staff officers at the briefing declined to take issue with budget decisions, but they outlined plans which called for more manpower even as they told of the corps' present strength.

At Camp Lejuene, N.C., the 2nd Division has at all times a battalion force of about 1,800 men on a 15-minute alert for movement anywhere in the Atlantic or European area.

With three aircraft carriers adapted to leatherneck needs, three additional battalions can be launched simultaneously by helicopter over or around enemy defenses and fight with atomic or conventional firepower.

The corps has now three divisions and three air wings, but under the current manpower limitations it has eliminated two battalions from each division, is manning the remainder of the combat units at 90 per cent strength and has reduced the numbers of men and planes in its air wings.

Newell PTA To Hold Open House Tonight

"Open house" will be held when the Jefferson Parent - Teacher Association meets tonight at 7:30 in the school at Newell as a belated observance of National Education Week.

The program will include remarks by George Vukas, cubmaster of Cub Scout Pack 10 sponsored by the PTA. A charter will be presented.

Joe Jester, vice president, will conduct business. Bruce Wheatley is president.

Other Hancock County schools held "open house" last week as National Education Week was observed.

3 Men Killed In Crash Of Single-Engine Plane

COVINGTON, Va. (AP)—Three men died Tuesday when their single-engine charter plane smashed on a mountain near here minutes before it was to land.

The victims were Jack Miller, 34, of Vinton, the pilot; C. C. McVey, 47, of Wilmette, Ill., a metallurgist, and Russell E. Aimes, 39, of Cleveland, Ohio, an industrial engineer.

Special Yule Payment Set At J. C. Penney Co.

A special Christmas payment for store associates was announced today by George F. Mueller, manager of the J. C. Penney Co. store here.

The payment will include all regular associates employed on or before Oct. 1, Mueller said.

All those eligible will share in the payment except management staff members whose earnings are determined largely by the company's long-standing profit-sharing plan, he said. The payment will be made Dec. 1.

The payment is in addition to regular company provisions for associates' benefits, including sick benefits, hospital and surgical insurance plan, non - contributory group life insurance, a profit-sharing retirement plan, discounts on purchases and others.

Ohio Steer Is Judged Eastern Grand Champ

TIMONIUM, Md. (AP)—A 950-pound Hereford steer shown by 4-H clubber Dennis Hinrichs, 18, of Woodville, Ohio, was judged the grand champion steer at the Eastern National Livestock Show Tuesday.

The champion goes to auction to the highest bidder today. Last year a packing house paid a record price of $4.01 a pound for the grand champion. The current market price for cattle is about 29 cents a pound.

The sandwich reigns supreme as the most popular item of food in the general American diet, there being an average of 90 million sandwiches consumed daily.

Hunters Fire At, Kick Pheasant But Get 'Bird'

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Dayton area pheasant hunters shot at, kicked and even used two guns on a "pheasant" near here Tuesday. But all they got was "the bird."

Officials of Dayton Power & Light Co.'s Hutchings Station said someone had placed a stuffed pheasant near the plant's main entrance.

One frustrated hunter reportedly fired at the bird with a second weapon when the first failed to rouse it.

Ink stains can be removed from a carpet by rubbing a paste of cornmeal and sweet milk on the spot. Allow the paste to soak for a full day, then sweep it off.

Georgetown Unit To Meet

The WSCS of the Georgetown Methodist Church will meet tonight at 8 in an event postponed from Nov. 11.

The Official Board of the church will hold its monthly meeting Friday night at 8 with Wendell Welborn, chairman, presiding.

Nine members of St. Luke's Episcopal Church attended a ceremony last week at the All Saints Episcopal Church in Aliquippa when the Rev. Russell Turner was instituted as rector.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. John Finley, John and Jane Finley, Mrs. Charles Finley, Mrs. Marie Andrews, Rose Marie Andrews, Mrs. Philip Hewitt and Mrs. Parkley McHaffie.

The Guild of St. Luke's Church will hold its Christmas meeting Dec. 8 with Mrs. Richard Trimble as hostess. A gift exchange will be held and members will present Chrismtas readings.

New officers of the Juniors at St. Luke's Church taught by Mrs. John Finley include David Trimble, president; John Allison, vice president; Jo Ann McHaffie, treasurer, and Linda Hewitt, secretary.

The birthdays of Mrs. Elmer Laughlin and son, Paul David Laughlin, were observed at a family dinner Sunday at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Gilkinson, of East Liverpool. Mr. and Mrs. Ross Potts of Aliquippa visited Thursday with the Laughlins.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Laughlin of Georgetown has been named Guy Michael. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Laughlin.

Mrs. Edgar Peffer and Mrs. George Simpson of East Liverpool were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Louis Wagner.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Carnahan of Parkersburg and Mr. and Mrs. Francis McCoy of East Liverpool were Sunday guests of Mss Edna Dawson.

Mrs. Sara Laughlin has concluded a visit with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Walton of Chester.

Miss Mary Blizzard of Columbus has been called here by the death of her sister, Mrs. William Rowley.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY MEYERS

Parents Troubled By New Doctrines

Many parents of children 9, 12 and 14 are writing that these children don't obey them and have gone beyond their control. They relate pathetic stories and want to know what to do. I'm not always sure how to answer them. These parents say they were led astray by all they had read and heard from those who seemed to know. When these children were mere babes and tots, the parents were urged not to be too strict with them. These parents say they are now disillusioned by the doctrine of permissiveness and restraints-to-the-winds—a doctrine they believed in when their children were very young.

By Garry Meyers

IT TROUBLES these parents to see their children so indifferent to their pleadings or defiant of their authority.

They are troubled still more that some of the very counselors and writers who led them to believe they should let these children do about as they pleased when they were 1, 3, or 5, are now telling them to stiffen up and discipline these children who are now 10, 14, or older. With a great sense of guilt, these parents feel helpless and hopeless.

Suppose these parents do say NO to these youngsters. Suppose they also try to force them to do what they don't feel like doing. What are the parents' wishes or commands?

An occasional parent may, in desperation, resort to corporal punishment. It's more likely than not that corporal punishment of a child so old and big will end in a fight lost by the parent, followed by still more defiance by the child.

AS A RULE, the parent who, for so many years, has been losing control of his child will be unfit to administer a paddling or whipping, and the child unfit to profit from it.

There may still be instances when the parent can withold certain privileges of the recalcitrant youngster over 8 or 10. But in most cases with defiant children so old, about the only way left is for the parents to be more calm, reasonable and persuasive. It's a slow and prodigious undertaking at self-management. They may or may not succeed.

They can, however, resolve to begin soon enough with the next baby to discipline him then and through early childhood, balancing restraint with boundless understanding and love.

My bulletins, "How to Teach Child Meanng of No," "Love and Restraint" and "How Juvenile Delinquency Can Be Curbed," may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Democrat Choice For President To Be Prime Topic

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The Democrat's choice for president will be a prime topic today when 1,500 delegates from 50 states gather for the 11th biennial national convention of the Young Democratic Clubs of America.

Former President Harry S. Truman winds up the convention with a speech Saturday evening at the Sports Arena.

Ohio Gov. Michael V. DiSalle will deliver the keynote address Thursday after a welcoming speech by William Coleman, state Democratic chairman. Paul M. Butler, national Democratic chairman, will follow DiSalle to the rostrum.

Committee meetings and registration take place today.

Among presidential prospects who will attend are Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn), and Govs. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey and G. Mennen Williams of Michigan. The governors will address delegates Friday.

Saturday, delegates will elect officers and adopt a platform for presentation to the platform committee at the 1960 Democratic convention.

Firm Hits Walkout

CLEVELAND (AP)—A walkout affecting 400 production workers of the Taylor & Boggis Foundry Co. Tuesday was termed unauthorized by a spokesman for the International Molders and Foundry Workers Union, which represents the strikers. The union spokesman said the men struck in protest against the way grievances were being handled by the company.

Only Fines Urged In Antitrust Suits, Rogers Discloses

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal prosecutors had recommended only fines in an Ohio antitrust suit that drew jail terms, Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers said Tuesday.

One of the defendants committed suicide Monday en route to the Federal Building in Columbus to begin a 90-day jail term. John T. Mains, 56, of Greenfield, Ohio, vice president of the Union Fork & Hoe Co., Columbus, was one of four executives of hand-tool manufacturing firms convicted on price-fixing charges.

Rogers said the sentence, which included heavy fines, was within the jurisdiction of the court of Federal Judge Mell G. Underwood.

Rogers said the men had pleaded "no contest" when told that government attorneys would not ask jail terms.

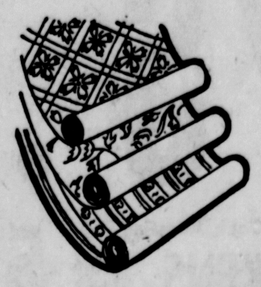

If you want to heat peaches to serve as a garnish for ham, put them in a baking dish with a little of their syrup and some brown sugar. Heat in a moderate oven for about 15 minutes.

More Attention To Family Size

Soaring U.S. Population Termed Threat To Health

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Public Health Assn. today termed soaring population growth a threat to the health of millions, and called for more attention to the means of regulating family size.

The problem should be an integral part of civic health programs the association said.

In the first policy statement ever made on the subject by the 87-year-old professional society, it said: "The public health profession has long taken leadership in defeating disease, disability and death. It must now assume equal leadership in understanding public health implications of population imbalance and in taking appropriate action."

The 13,000-member association includes public health officials at community, state, national and inter-American levels.

It said current population increase "threatens the health and well-being of many millions of people."

In some areas, the statement said, the threat is malnutrition or outright starvation; in others, it is increased family stress, reduced educational opportunities, retarded industrial development, crippled economies.

"Especially lacking is scientific knowledge concerning human fertility," the association said.

"The healthful effects of family planning and spacing of births has been recognized by leaders of all major religious groups, as well as by leaders in medicine, welfare and public affairs."

The Roman Catholic Church opposes any artificial means of birth control, but does allow the so-called "rhythm method" in certain cases, whereby intercourse is avoided in likely periods of conception.

The statement was adopted by the association's 162-member governing council, including representatives of 14 health specialties and of 49 state, regional and territorial branches.

Midland Legion Starts Program For Yule Toys

William Coble was named chairman of the Midland American Legion Posts' annual Christmas toy program at the meeting Monday night at the post home.

The post annually collects and repairs toys for distribution to needy children at Christmas and some 200 to 300 are handed out.

Residents desiring to contribute toys to be repaired and repainted may contact any Legionnaire.

John Reider, commander, presided and reports were submitted by various committees on the Veterans' Day program held a week ago. Refreshments were served.

Cleveland Presbytery Chooses Moderator

CHARDON, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Presbytery of the United Presbyterian Church in the USA elected Dr. Harry B. Taylor moderator Tuesday night.

Dr. Taylor, pastor of the Church of the Covenant, succeeds Dr. Henry Orr Lietman, pastor of Cuyahoga Falls United Presbyterian Church.

Named vice moderator of the presbytery, which includes 68 churches in a seven-county area, was the Rev. F. Bruce Johnson, pastor of Monroe Presbyterian Church in Akron.

4-H Leaders To Meet

LISBON — Twelve 4-H advisors who will help with the club program this year will meet Thursday at 8 p. m. in the extension office on S. Market St. to make plans for the officers and advisors training sessions, according to Don Myers, county extension agent in agriculture.

Aldo Ray Will Rest, Try To Decide On Girl

CROCKETT, Calif. (AP) — For the next two months, Aldo Ray says, he's going to take it easy—golfing, hiking and fishing, while he tries to figure out if 20-year-old Johanna Bennett is the girl he wants to marry.

The actor had planned to have Johanna accompany him here from London to see California.

But Johanna's father, Maj. Gen. Roland Bennett, former honorary physician to Queen Elizabeth, said he didn't want his daughter to accompany Ray when he learned he was a twice divorced film actor.

The origin of bowling has been traced to the Egyptians of 5000 BC.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Chesapeake & Ohio Railway called 65 heavy maintenance workers back to its locomotive shop in Huntington, W. Va., today and announced that 68 more will return Dec. 1.

Yale And Harvard Withdraw From U.S. Student Loan Plan

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Yale and Harvard, two of the nation's most influential universities, have withdrawn from the federal student loan program. The program requires borrowers to sign a loyalty affidavit.

Yale President A. Whitney Griswold said the affidavit "is contrary to the classic principles of our colleges and universities."

Harvard President Nathan M. Pusey called it misguided, and an "affidavit of disbelief."

The affidavit, required of students applying for federal education loans, states that the applicant does not believe in, belong to, or support "any organization that believes in or teaches the overthrow of the United States government by force or violence or by any illegal or unconstitutional means."

Griswold and Pusey made their announcements Tuesday independently. But it was learned that the two presidents had talked the matter over by telephone Tuesday and had been discussing the affidavit for several months.

Their decisions mean almost a half million dollars in available funds will not be used. Harvard is turning back $357,873. Yale, which already has received $160,000, said it will return most of another $50,000 to which it is entitled.

The affidavit was required by the National Defense Act of 1958, which put the student loan fund into operation. An effort was made in the Senate last summer to delete the affidavit requirement, but it failed. The affidavit is accompanied by an oath of support of the U.S. Constitution.

Crucible Steel Cuts Beta-Titanium Price

The Crucible Steel Co. announced today a reduction in the price of its new all-beta titanium alloy, B-120VCA, which was introduced 2 years ago.

Base price of billets and plates has been decreased $1 per pound; bars and strip down $1.25 per pound, and sheet and wire down $1.50 per pound.

Dwight W. Kaufmann, Crucible's titanium product manager, said reductions in the cost of making the new alloy makes it possible to pass the savings along to the Defense Department via the aircraft and missile industries.

Beaver Mental Health Group Asks For Cheer

The Beaver County Mental Health Society today appealed for residents to make Christmas happier for 164 patients at the Dixmont State Hospital who have neither family nor friends.

Residents may either provide an entire Christmas for a patient, in effect adopting one for the day, or may purchase a single gift. It asked those interested to call society's office, SP. 5-4165 for names of patients and their needs. Gifts should be turned over to the society by Dec. 1.

Aim At Shoplifters

CINCINNATI (AP)—A squad of police, specially trained to detect shoplifters, is earmarked for Christmas holiday duty in city stores. Chief Stanley Schrotel said his department will also send bulletins to merchants telling precautions against shoplifting.

3 Games Will Close District Grid Season Friday Night

Potters Visit Alliance; Wellsville's At Lisbon

Old man football will take his final bow on the district gridirons as the 1959 football season comes to an end Friday night.

Only three games are scheduled on the final night, with the big one at Alliance where the East Liverpool Potters meet the Aviators.

In the other contests, Wellsville will be at Lisbon and Columbiana at Louisville.

District Grid Card

Friday

East Liverpool at Alliance
Wellsville at Lisbon
Columbiana at Louisville

Coach Lou Venditti's Potters will conclude their best season since 1956 when the Blue and White showed an 8-2 record.

East Liverpool can match the 8-2 mark with a victory Friday night. The Potters have won 7 of 9 games.

Meanwhile, Alliance, the 1958 Ohio champions, have felt defeat twice this season and last week were tied 12-12 by Niles.

However, the two defeats which have marred the Aviators' record came at the hands of the powerful Massillon Tigers, 14-0 and Cincinnati Elder, 14-6.

Alliance has been hit by injuries lately and three regulars will be sitting out Friday night's game.

Alliance has victories over Akron Central, 40-0, Cuyahoga Falls, 28-0, Akron St. Vincent, 6-0, Akron Howell 76-0, Canton McKinley, 50-12, and Toledo Scott 22-0.

Wellsville, under Coach Ken Woods, will complete its first winning season since 1948. The Tigers will take a 5-3-1 record into Friday's action and can do no worse than a 5-4-1 mark.

The last winning season at Wellsville was in 1948 when the Tigers, under Mike Rodak, recorded 5 victories, 4 defeats and a tie. The 1953 team, with Al Checkler coach, split even with a 5-5 record. Coach Bud Bucher's Lisbon team has a 7-2 mark.

Columbiana will put a 3-5 record on the line at Louisville. The Louisville eleven finished second in the Tri-County League behind East Palestine. Louisville was knocked from a share for the title after a scoreless tie with Minerva last week.

McKeever Boys Named Linemen Of The Week

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The McKeevers are twin reasons why No. 4 ranked Southern California is undefeated and untied after eight bruising football games.

Singly or in tandem, the two—Mike and Marlin — are rougher than a stucco bathtub.

When informed Tuesday that they had been named Associated Press "Linemen of the Week" for the helping throttle Baylor Saturday to a measly three yards on the ground, Mike replied: "We're real proud."

Marlin said, "We're honored, it's great."

These were characteristic answers for the crew-cut, 215-pound identical twins, who always think of themselves as "we." They're a fearsome example of togetherness.

Between them the McKeevers stopped 25 of Baylor's 72 offensive plays. Mike made 13 tackles, one more than his brother.

Mike leads the Trojan team in tackles and Marlin is second. "But I get more because they rarely try to run around Marlin's end," explained Mike. A check shows that Baylor tried only three runs around Marlin's flank post and California and West Virginia not more than a half dozen between them. None of the charges was successful.

Mike was in the headlines for several days after the California game when the Cal coach accused him of piling on and slugging a downed halfback. The back was out for the season with a crushed cheek and nose.

"I wish people would just forget about that and just let me play football," said Mike, who previously denied any dirty tactics.

Steelers Have Defeated Best In Pro Grid Loop

CLEVELAND (AP) — Don't judge the Pittsburgh Steelers on their National Football League won-lost record. They have won only three of eight games, but their victories were against the best in the league.

Pittsburgh is the only Eastern Conference team with victories over both the Cleveland Browns and New York Giants, who are tied for the conference lead with 6-2 records.

The Steelers, who won 17-7 in the first meeting, play Cleveland again here Sunday.

Coach Buddy Parker said of his Steelers:

"We have been beaten badly only once, that 45-24 loss to the Chicago Cardinals. In the other games we lost, we had a chance almost until the very end."

Pittsburgh is expected to have a little extra incentive Sunday. A loss would give them a 3-5-1 record, eliminating them from the title race. With a victory they at least retain a mathematical chance at the championship.

Says Parker:

"(Quarterback) Bobby Layne hasn't been having the season we hoped for and we haven't found the running to supplement his passing. Layne did a good job against the Giants, though. In fact it was a good showing by the whole team."

The good showing in New York last week (Steelers 14, Giants 9) dropped the Giants into the tie with Cleveland.

Parker sounded another note to optimism, which could mean big trouble for the Browns:

"Injuries have hurt us, but we're healthy now."

Harris Is 'Satisfied' After Scrimmage With Beaver Five

Jim Harris, Potter basketball coach, got the first good look of his team in action during a scrimmage with Beaver Tuesday at Memorial Auditorium.

"I was satisfied with the scrimmage," Harris said and "especially with the starting five" which consisted of Phil Chan, Kenny Miller, Ray Bigelow, Joe Burke and Harold Adkins.

Harris is working with a group of nine. Football players who will be candidates will report for practice Monday.

Chan and Miller did most of the scoring for the Potters Tuesday as the starting quintet played Beaver even most of the way.

East Liverpool will scrimmage Jack Frontone's Beaver Local squad this afternoon at Beaver Local.

Quail On Ohio Hunting List

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — For the first time in 46 years, Ohio hunters can shoot quail, and Herbert B. Eagon, natural resources chief, feels hunters' inexperience may lead to accidents.

"Some hunters may have forgotten that quail tend to fly low when flushed," Eagon said. "You have to watch out for the possibility of another hunter's being in your line of fire."

Eagon has received no shooting fatality reports yet.

Larry Curtis, 17, of near Marion suffered gunshot wounds in the left foot while out hunting, and in Union County, Doyle Harsh, 36, of Columbus suffered wounds in both thighs while hunting near the Delaware County line. Lloyd Danner, of near Circleville, sustained buckshot wounds in his face.

Starting Monday, quail could be hunted on state-owned or leased land. Rabbit and pheasant went on the open list also, and hunting and trapping of skunk, opossum and raccoon are also statewide now.

Meeting Set Thursday For City Cage League

Representatives of area teams wishing to participate in the City Basketball League this winter are to meet Thursday night at 8 in the Travelers Hotel. The league will be sponsored this season by the East Liverpool Sportsmen's Club.

Reynolds Gets 100 Per Cent Offensively

Bruce "Big Mama" Reynolds didn't make a mistake offensively in the Toronto game as far as the East Liverpool coaching staff was concerned.

After grading movies of the Toronto-Potter game, the coaches said Reynolds became the first East Liverpool gridder to earn a perfect 100 per cent as he carried out his offensive duties flawlessly.

The 240-pounder has become the most improved player on the Potter squad.

Kenny Cunningham earned a 91 per cent rating, while Bob Mackall had 87, Henry Roach 84, Dave Zelch 83 and Jim Bise 82.

Cincinnati Upheld By Court In Case Of Parking Space

CINCINNATI (AP)—The city's bargain with the Cincinnati Reds to improve parking around Crosley Field is legal in the opinion of the First District Court of Appeals.

The court Tuesday upheld the city's right to condemn property to provide parking space for baseball fans.

Superior Laundry & Towel Supply Co., whose building behind the ball park's outfield is sought by the city, filed suit against the city contending the bargain was not legal.

Cus D'Amato Questioned

NEW YORK (AP)—Cus D'Amato, manager of former heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson, was called to the stand today in the state's investigation into the Patterson-Ingemar Johansson title bout last summer.

The investigation is being conducted by Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz to determine if any of the state's anti-monopoly rights were violated. Lefkowitz particularly is anxious to find out if the radio-television-movie rights were properly distributed.

In another phase of the investigation, Dist. Atty. Frank Hogan said his office has taken legal action in Miami, Fla., to require Anthony (Fat Tony) Salerno to testify before the grand jury.

Salerno is the alleged "Mr. X" in the investigation. Hogan said Salerno had named Vincent Velella, who holds the promotion rights to the Patterson-Johansson rematch, as his front man. Velella has denied this.

Celtics Gain Overtime Win

By The Associated Press

The Eastern division still is slapping the Western clubs around in the National Basketball Assn. and even the New York Knicks are in on it.

Boston's world champion Celtics had to scramble but put away their 11th victory in 12 games this season with a 132-129 double overtime decision at Detroit Tuesday night. That gave them an 8-1 record against the West.

The Detroit loss left St. Louis in the Western lead by a game over the Pistons although the Hawks were beaten 105-97 by the Knicks, who had lost five in a row. New York has only a 3-10 record, and all three victories are over Western clubs.

Syracuse, third in the East, topped Cincinnati 121-116 in the opener of the twinbill at New York's Madison Square Garden. The Nats are 4-2 against the West.

A breakaway layup by Sam Jones won for the Celtics, who now have taken five straight and lead second place Philadelphia by two games in the Eastern race. Jones and Bill Sharman, each scoring 28 points, kept Boston's string intact. Gene Shue was the game's leading scorer with 35 points.

The Knicks, scored their first home victory of the season as Kenny Sears' jump shot and Mike Farmer's drive-in broke up a 20-20 Hawk surge. Cliff Hagan of the Hawks was high with 27 points while Sears followed with 25, getting 20 in the last half.

Dolph Schayes and George Yardley triggered a Syracuse comeback after the Nats had blown a 10-point lead and trailed the Royals by nine. Schayes finished with 30 points. Jack Twyman led scoring with 38 points, hitting half of the Royals' 20 first half field goals.

Unitas Near NFL Mark For Touchdown Passes

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Johnny Unitas, Baltimore's star quarterback, is close to breaking a National Football League record for the most touchdown passes in one season.

He's only third among leading passers, league statistics released today show, but he's thrown 22 for touchdowns, the last three in the Colts' 28-24 victory over Green Bay Sunday.

That's only six short of the record set by Chicago's Sid Luckman in 1943. Unitas has four games to go.

Unitas also leads the league in total yards gained passing. He has 2,133 compared with the 1,622 of Norm Van Brocklin of Philadelphia.

Frank Rice of Los Angeles, who hadn't attempted enough passes last week to qualify for passing honors, jumped into first place this week with 68 attempts (one more than needed to qualify), 36 completions, 596 yards gained and the all-important average gain of 8.76.

Ralph Guglielmi of Washington was second with 67 attempts, 30 completions, 562 yards and an 8.39 average. Unitas, with 251 attempts and 135 completions, has an 8.17 average.

Among ground gainers, Cleveland's Jimmy Brown leads with 199 attempts, 902 yards gained and a 4.5 average. J. D. Smith Jr., San Francisco, continued in second place with 154 attempts, 756 yards and a 4.9 average. Los Angeles' Ollie Matson held third place with 741 yards on 136 carries for a 5.4 average.

Ray Berry of Baltimore held first place in pass receiving with 48 catches for 679 yards gained. There was a three-way tie for second place, Lennie Moore and Jim Mutscheller of Baltimore, and Billy Wilson of San Francisco, each with 33.

Reds Claim Record

LONDON (AP) — Moscow radio said today a Russian athlete has set a new world weightlifting record. It said Nikolay Kostylev, performing at a sports meet in Yaroslavl, made a two-hand snatch of 126 kilograms (277.2 pounds) in the lightweight class to better the world mark by 500 grams (1.1 pounds).

FIELD AND STREAM

By R. L. LIDE

This is being written Sunday, night, a day before the annual big hunt got under way.

Hunters were out in the backyard petting their hunting dogs, making over them like they haven't since the dogs were put on the chain after the season closed last year.

No doubt, there are many young hunters who now own their first hunting outfit. Before they go to bed they will have to try on the complete outfit and do a little drilling before the mirror to see how they look. I know, because I was one of those young men many years ago. I don't think I was an exception.

TROUBLE WILL crop up needlessly. Hunters will trespass, straddle the middle of the farmers' fences and shoot too close to the buildings and livestock. There is no reason to believe this year will be any different from previous years.

Hunters will even shoot each other due to carelessness, and it will be called a "hunting accident". Game protectors will have their hands full and face the impossible task of being everywhere at the same time. Landowners will ask, "Where were you"?

One of the biggest nuisances of them all, the trap stealer, will steal some one else's traps because someone stole his and in so doing will set off a chain reaction of trap stealing that really hurts the honest trapper. Sportsmanship goes out the window.

The hen pheasant shooter will blast at everything that runs or flies and brag, "I don't eat the feathers!" That may be true, but if the game protector catches him he will wish he had eaten the feathers. A considerable amount of general confusion will be in evidence.

ON THE other hand, there will be plenty of hunters out having a fine day in pursuit of game, hunting with the farmers, sharing the kill and coming home satisfied that they still have the privilege of hunting in free America as it should be.

Our local county courts will have added responsibilities sitting in judgment before the long list of deliberate violators that will appear on the dockets all over the state of Ohio. Many, many more violators would join the lineup if there were more enforcement men in the field.

In most instances there is a game protector available if any one has a justifiable complaint that needs to be taken care of providing the complainer gives his full cooperation to the game protector.

If the game protector cannot be reached at his home by telephone, then a call to the sheriff's office or the Highway Patrol will be relayed to him as he has a two-way communication in his car and he can be reached regardless of where he happens to be.

Any person, deliberately violating the hunting laws can be removed from the field after conviction as his hunting license is automatically revoked.

Huskies Need Win Saturday To Cinch Bowl

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — If Washington's Huskies beat their traditional rivals, Washington State, this Saturday, the Huskies are a cinch for the Rose Bowl.

But if the Cougars upset Washington — and Oregon knocks off Oregon State—and UCLA topples unbeaten Southern California — the Rose Bowl selection committee will have one of its biggest headaches ever in picking the 1960 Pacific Coast representative.

The Far West entry will be selected by a committe of nine athletic directors of the schools that made up the old Pacific Coast Conference.

The West Coast representative doesn't have to be the club with the most victories. The by-laws of the old PCC stress that it should be the most representative team.

Greg Englehard, California's athletic director, chairman of this year's selection committee said, "Washington seems to have the inside track right now but frankly anything could happen by Saturday night. We won't know who's going to play at Pasadena until all nine votes are in. The voting deadline is noon Monday."

Other voters are the athletic directors of Stanford, Southern Cal, UCLA, Washington, Washington State, Oregon, Oregon State and Idaho.

Unbeaten USC is ineligible because of an NCAA ban, for recruiting violations that won't be lifted until after New Year's Day.

The 1959 scores that count, Englehard said, are strictly those of each of the former PCC members against other former PCC members.

In the games that count for bowl eligibility Washington has a 6-1 record; Oregon, credited with only one of its two victories over Washington State, is 4-1; UCLA is 2-1.

Since Washington has beaten both Oregon and UCLA, a win Saturday will virtually guarantee the Huskies a trip to Pasadena.

Iowa Picked Over Irish

Penn State, Northwestern Favored To Win Saturday

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Taking another fling at picking the college football winners with the right hand while trying to eat a sandwich with the left.

Northwestern over Illinois: This always is a donnybrook, even when nothing is at stake.

Louisiana State over Tulane: The Greenies will find Billy Cannon a tough customer.

Syracuse over Boston University: The Davis boys and Art Baker should find this a pleasant afternoon.

Penn State over Pittsburgh: Richie Lucas finds the flaws in the Panthers defense.

Southern Methodist over Baylor: Don Meredith will pass and pass and pass.

Southern California over UCLA: The Uclans have no answer to the rugged play of the McKeever brothers.

Elsewhere: Tennessee over Kentucky, Iowa over Notre Dame, Purdue over Indiana, Washington over Washington State, Princeton over Dartmouth, Iowa State over Oklahoma.

FRIDAY

Furman over Davidson, Michigan State over Miami, San Jose over College of Pacific.

SATURDAY

American Grid League Will Bid Against NFL

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Lamar Hunt, founder of the American Football League, says the teams will be mostly rookies next fall. But, with appeals of pay, geography and a better chance to play, he hopes his club at least will field the top rookies.

Hunt told a news conference Tuesday the new league has three groups studying available talent and the information will be pooled. He acknowledged that most of the players drafted by the American Football League at its draft Nov. 23 will also be drafted by the National Football League.

But, as far as his Dallas Texans are concerned, anyway, Hunt sees pretty good prospects.

"There are lots of Southwest Conference players in the National Football League now," he said. "We think many of this year's crop would like to stay in this area, where they live and probably will live when their playing days are over.

"We will have to bid against the National Football League on the basis of pay, also. But we've got another strong point. Only a few rookies make the team each year in the National League."

He acknowledged that it would probably be several seasons before AFL clubs could play against NFL clubs on an even basis. Therefore, he said, no exhibition games or world-series type playoffs are planned now with NFL clubs, "but we hope to in the future."

Ohio Issues Charter

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Secretary of State Ted W. Brown issued a non-profit corporation charter Tuesday to the Ohio Minute Men, with headquarters in Ashtabula. The group's purpose clause says it seeks "to keep in contact with the House of Representatives on all legislation pertaining to firearms . . . . to make available to other participating members, any gun clubs, all information and, when possible, copies of said bills . . . ."

Maryland Officials Clear Coach In Death Of Gridder

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—A university investigation has determined there was "no negligence on anyone's part" in the death of a Maryland football player who collapsed on the practice field during pre-season drills.

A subcommittee of the university's athletic council reported Tuesday that the death of Charles (Sonny) Lohr, 19, "must be regarded a most unusual and unfortunate accident."

The report, clearing Coach Tom Nugent and his staff of negligence, said Lohr's training routine on the day he collapsed "could not be considered excessive."

Lohr, sophomore center from Bladensburg, Md., collapsed of heat exhaustion Sept. 2. He died four days later in a Baltimore hospital.

Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, university president, named the four-man subcommittee to investigate Lohr's death after three youths reported Lohr had undergone a prolonged workout under protest before his collapse.

The Cincinnati Reds will play 13 exhibition games against American League teams next spring. They will meet National League rivals 10 times.

Cooper Flattens Erskine, Wants Johansson Next

LONDON (AP)—Henry Cooper, British and Empire heavyweight champion, today announced he has one fighter in mind for his next bout — world champion Ingemar Johansson of Sweden.

Cooper's confidence stems from his successful defense of the British title against challenger Joe Erskine Tuesday night.

The fight ended after 2:55 of the 12th round with Erskine sprawled across the ropes.

Erskine had been down for two counts of seven a few minutes earlier. Then Cooper waded in and knocked Erskine unconscious with a fusillade of killer punches.

Folley To Face Johnson Tonight

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Zora Folley, second - ranked heavyweight contender from Chandler, Ariz., fights promising Alonzo Johnson of Pittsburgh tonight in the strange surroundings of a swanky motel patio with tux-clad fans sipping champaigne cocktails.

The 10-round bout from the Caravan East Inn on Phoenix' famed motel row will be televised nationally (ABC-10 p. m. EST).

Fire Alarm Installed In Scout Camp

Installation of a new fire alarm system for cabins and the main building at the McKinley Boy Scout Reservation near Lisbon has been completed, according to Joseph Prager of East Liverpool, chairman of the Columbiana Council health and safety committee.

Installation of the alarms was sponsored by the County Independent Insurance Agents Association, headed by J. Leland Helt of Leetonia.

The alarms are automatic, charged with freon gas which is set off at a temperature of 136 degrees with a sound that can be heard for over half a mile.

The cabins at the reservations are heated by wood and coal stoves. Use of the alarms in event of a fire would enable the scouts to awaken in time to escape injury. One alarm was installed during the summer at the dining hall of the camp at Leesville Lake.

Legion To Buy New Quarters

Approval of final arrangements for purchase of a new home for Glenmoor American Legion Post 736 was authorized at a meeting of the post Tuesday night.

The post has obtained a one-story concrete block structure on the Y. & O. Rd. owned by Sam Stepanovich. The building, which has a shingle roof and a full basement, is on a two-thirds acre site which was part of the nearby Lake Samary tract just northwest of Glenmoor.

The post has been meeting in the 40 & 8 Society building in Glenmoor.

George Hamilton, commander, said the post plans to move into the new structure next month, in time for the annual Christmas party for youngsters tentatively slated the week before Christmas.

James Noble was re-instated as a member. Robert Burgess, chaplain, reported on a recent visit to the Columbiana County Home, and said work clothing is needed by the men there.

Ronald Hopper and William Stowers reported on the recent meeting of the County American Legion Council. Robert Buckley reported on the Veterans Day dinner Nov. 11.

The next meeting will be Dec. 1.

Bidding Slated For Home Sale

Wellsville City Council Tuesday night authorized legislation to advertise for bids for sale of city-owned property on Danbury Ave., during a 40-minute session.

A home and lot were purchased from Homer Sims about two months ago in conjunction with the Army Engineers as the lot is in the fringe of the pondage area required for McQueen's Run.

The Board of Control was authorized to advertise for bids for the sale, with the city to retin an easement for drainage.

In other business, a letter was read from Gov. Michael DiSalle in acknowledgement of Council's letter sent to him regarding assignment of state patrolmen in the area of the Route 213 junction with State Route 7 at Yellow Creek.

Council previously recommended to Gov. DiSalle that traffic control in that area be handled by patrolmen from the Lisbon barracks instead of officers from Wintersville in Jefferson County near Steubenville.

Gov. DiSalle informed Council in the letter that the matter would be referred to the state director of highways and to management in the state patrol organization, which will study the situation.

Stan Shepherd of the Allied Oil Co., informed Council he would appear at the meeting Dec. 1 to discuss improvements of Nevada St.

Councilman J. F. Russell reported that pressure had been turned on in a new water line from Cemetery Hill to Russell Heights. Russell is chairman of the Water and Sewage Board.

Invocation was given by Councilman Ancil Moore. Councilman Richard Brown offered benediction.

Hayes Opens Doors To Let In Chilly Air

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Coach Woody Hayes didn't want his Ohio State team getting soft Tuesday as they practiced indoors, so he opened the doors of French Field House to let in some of the frigid weather.

Second-string end Chuck Bryant of Zanesville suffered an injured wrist but Bryant said he thought he'd be in action Saturday as the Buckeyes go north to meet Michigan.

With the exceptions of fullback Bob White and right half Bill Wentz, all other players were reported back on the ready line.

Early Detection, Treatment Cited For Control Of Cancer

Cancer victims must assume the responsibility of going to their physicians as early as possible, Dr. David L. Kinsey of Columbus emphasized in a talk on "Medicine's Fight Against Cancer" at the Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday in the Travelers Hotel.

Formerly of East Liverpool, Dr. Kinsey is resident physician in surgery at the Ohio State Medical Center and is working through research on surgical treatment of the nation's No. 2 killer.

Early diagnosis is of primary importance, Dr. Kinsey pointed out, and he warned that persons who notice symptoms should receive treatment immediately while the disease still is in its early stages.

While X-ray therapy and radiation are proving successful in early treatment, research is continuing to discover more efficient methods, through study of cancer cells and experiments with mice.

"Research is the only basic hope of finding a possible cure of cancer," Dr. Kinsey emphasized, "even though people are hoping for a magic pill or metabolic treatment."

Dr. Kinsey said his present research program involves a study of cancer cells and their basic properties and metabolic aspects.

Cancer is found to spread to secondary spots in the body in a pattern, such as the lungs then the brain. This was proven in an experiment with mice which he discussed.

Cancer research and treatment present "one of the greatest challenges in medicine and only the most scientific principles are being used to clear up the complex factors of the disease," he continued.

The disease was described by physicians as early as 1500 B.C. but not until the 19th Century and the invention of the microscope did actual research begin.

Asked about the connection between cigarette smoking and cancer, Dr. Kinsey said he feels there is "definite correlation," but that there is an equal correlation of cancer with other things.

A graduate of East Liverpool High School, Dr. Kinsey spent two years at Johns Hopkins University at Baltimore before graduating from Ohio State University in 1955.

He was introduced by his brother, Dr. R. Jay Kinsey, who was program chairman. Charles D. Taylor, president, presided.

2 To Be Arraigned

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Two Dayton men are due for arraignment today in Municipal Court on charges of burglary and larceny in the early Monday plundering of a safe at a bowling alley here. Paul Vokovic, 31, and Nelson Lines, 34, were arrested a few hours after the theft was discovered. Sheriff Paul Pell said $5,762 in cash and checks were recovered, most of it entry fees in a bowling tournament. Both men denied any part in the burglary.

3 Republic Steel Executives See 'Good Things' For Firm

NEW YORK (AP)—Three Republic Steel Corp. executives addressed the New York Society of Security Analysts Tuesday night, and all predicted good things ahead for the nation's third largest steel producer.

Board Chairman Charles M. White said Republic's 375-million-dollar, five-year improvement program and its research to pinpoint customers' needs will be key factors in meeting the problems of inflation and foreign competition. He cited a new 56-inch strip mill to be built in Warren at a cost of 55 million dollars as an example of Republic's program.

"We believe the new mill will set new standards of versatility and efficiency," he declared.

Thomas F. Patton, Republic president, said he anticipated inventory building during every quarter of 1960 and a potential national demand of 135 million ingot tons for the year.

"Republic will have its full share of this robust business," Patton declared, adding that "one of the characteristics of this company is its ability to recover from periods of low operations faster than the rest of the steel industry."

Peter Robertson, vice president in charge of research, said metallurgists believe "we have barely begun to make use of steel's potential." He said a crystal of pure iron has a tensile strength of more than a million pounds per square inch, but even highly stressed steels used in armaments seldom exceed 300,000 pounds per square inch in tensile strength.

20 At Lawrenceville Legion Post Meeting

About 20 attended a meeting of Lawrenceville American Legion Post 163 Monday night at the post home.

Don Mills, Newell real estate agent, discussed veterans' real estate loans, reminding the availability of GI loans for World War II veterans expires in July 1960 and for Korean veterans, 1965.

It was reported the new addition to the post home will be ready for occupancy in about three week

Oyster stew was served by Sherman Williams and Harold Waide. Leroy Dunham, commander, was in charge. The next meeting will be Dec. 7.

50 Attend Ceremony For IOOF Candidates

About 50 attended a meeting of area IOOF Lodges Monday night at the Pride of Chester Lodge 245 hall when the first degree was conferred on a class of candidates.

Representatives attended from East Liverpool, Wellsville, Newell, Collins and Weir Cove. Dan Kelly of Colliers, district deputy grand master, attended.

Lunch was served by Dale Hoyt and committee. William Haney, noble grand, presided. The second degree will be conferred Nov. 23 at 7:30 p. m. at East Liverpool Lodge 379.

Newell Band Parents To Sponsor Lunch Sale

Plans to sponsor a sack lunch sale were outlined when Newell Band Parents met Tuesday night in the American Legion home.

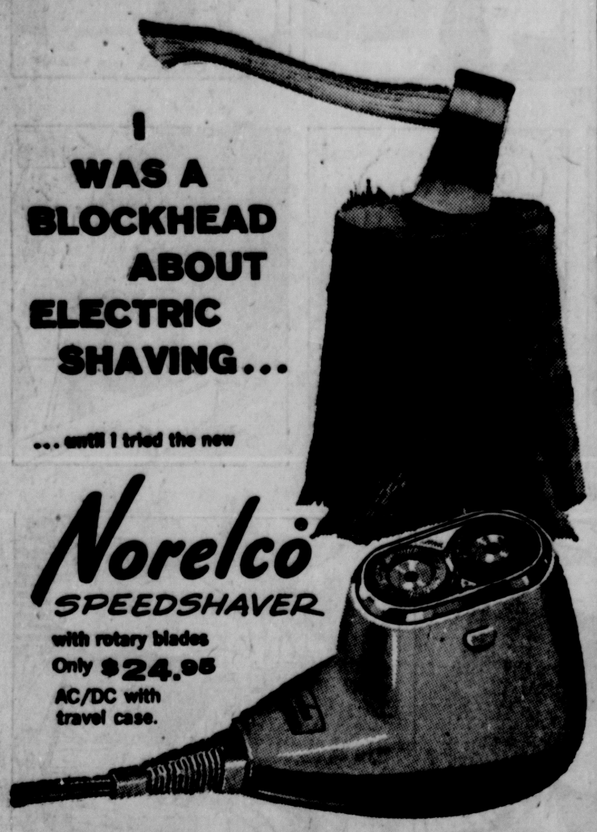

Co-chairmen of the sale to be held before the Christmas holidays in East Liverpool are Mrs. Harriett Talbott and Mrs. Carrie Baker. The date will be announced later.

Twenty attended and devotions were led by Mrs. Baker. Mrs. Robert Ingram, president, conducted business.

Hostesses were Mrs. Helene Wilson, Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Talbott.

The next meeting is Dec. 8 at Hammond's Tea Room in Wellsville. A $1 gift exchange will be held along with a 25-cent grab-bag. Reservations must be made by Nov. 30 by calling Mrs. Paul Burnside.
